ISLAND OFF CUBA REPORTS 32 DEAD AFTER BIG STORM

Worst Caribbean Storm in Many Years Ravages Cuba and Number of Other Nearby Islands

RED CROSS ISSUES APPEAL FOR FUNDS

American Ships Bring Aid To Stricken People.
Dead Will Exceed 600, Thousands Injured.

Havana, Cuba, October 22.
(A.P.)—The Isle of Pines was ravaged by the Caribbean storm of Wednesday, 32 persons being killed, among them 17 Americans, and about 100 injured. This was the news brought to Havana this afternoon after more than 48 hours without word from the Isle of Pines, which lies about 35 miles south of Cuba.

From all the sections of Cuba affected by the storm reports came in today which added to the steadily mounting list of dead and injured. It is now estimated that more than 600 persons were killed, about 1,600 injured and more than 6,500 families were made homeless.

$100,000,000 Loss.
It has been estimated that the losses in money total nearly $100,- 000,000.

Many towns, from which meager news came today, appear to have been completely wrecked. Among them are Banoa, San Antonio, Del Rio Blanco, Cuira De Melena, Jamaica, Cuatro Caminos, Gabriel, Batabano, and on the Isle of Pines,
Santa Fe, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.

Throughout the area affected high water seems to have done almost as much damage as the hurricane.
With the path of the storm officially reported to have been from the Isle of Pines through Batabano and on to the north coast a few miles east of Havana, every village in that path from which word has come tells of inundations of a part or the whole settlement.

Americans Tell Story.
The story of the destruction wrought on the Isle of Pines was told by three Americans and a Cuban newspaperman when they reached the capital this afternoon. They left Nueva Gerona, Isle of Pines, Thursday afternoon on the steamer Crystal Colon, with 52 heavily injured. The steamer landed at Batabano, which is about 40 miles south of Havana, early today, and they then came here to seek

Bandits, Beware! Marines Here To Guard Mails

Mail bandits should think twice before operating in the Atlanta division of the railway mail service, with this determined looking bunch of marines on guard over the registered mails. Arriving Friday evening in Atlanta, the marines were caught in a flashlight photo by Francis E. Price, staff photographer of The Constitution, as they "fell in" after debarking from their train in the Terminal station. The "Devil Dogs" marched to a nearby hotel, where they were quartered for the night. They will assume their guard duties over the registered mails today.

INTEREST IS KEEN IN COTTON PARLEY SCHEDULED TODAY

4,000,000-Bale Withdrawal, Acreage Reduction and Orderly Marketing System Chief Topics.

Definite plans for retirement of the 1925 surplus cotton crop; withdrawal of approximately 4,000,000 bales of this year's crop from the market, together with an orderly marketing system for the remainder and a campaign for 25 per cent reduction in cotton acreage in 1927 will be discussed this morning at a meeting of representative Georgians with Eugene Meyer, Jr., head of the special cotton committee appointed by President Coolidge.

The conference will be held at 10 o'clock in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce building and is one of a series of similar gatherings growing out of the all-southern cotton conference held last week in Memphis, when southern agriculturists, business leaders and bankers were assured by federal authorities that federal intermediate credit banks are fully equipped to make proper advances to growers and that the government is anxious to give every aid possible in handling "distress" cotton in the present crisis.

Responses from leading Georgia business men and bankers indicate that interest is keen throughout the state in finding an adequate solution for the problem, which again this year threatens to engulf the southern grower in ruin.

CHICAGO VICTIM OF MACHINE GUN GANG RECOVERS

Chicago, October 22.—(A.P.)—Attorney William W. O'Brien, wounded seven times in the gang shooting ten days ago, which cost the lives of "Hymie" Weiss and another gangster, left the hospital today prepared to resume his defense of Joe Salts and Frank Koncil, alleged gunmen, charged with murder, when their trial is re-convened Monday.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE LAUNCHED AT WORKERS' MEET

Leaders Predict Early Success in Campaign for $521,696 To Support Social Agencies.

With success forecast by leaders of all divisions that will take the field today, the fourth annual appeal for the support of the 35 social service and relief agencies in the Atlanta Community Chest was launched by more than 500 determined volunteer workers at the opening campaign meeting on the Ansley roof Friday night.

"Atlanta has got this money, plenty of money for every call that will be made upon it through these agencies during the coming year," W.
R. C. Smith, former president of the chamber of commerce, told the workers. "One insurance company with only its own staff of salesmen recently sold more than one hundred million dollars worth of insurance in one week's campaign alone."

"Atlanta is more ready to give to the world to sell to Atlanta, an insurance against disease, against crime, against waste, and you are offering it at a rate that is ridiculously small," Mr. Smith declared.

Publicity Praised.
"The way has been cleared for you salesmen by the finest educational campaign of advertising, publicity and information that I have ever seen and it is squarely up to you to deliver 100 per cent in less than the time allowed for the campaign to run," he asserted.

"Atlanta is more ready to give to the support of its social service work, for the relief of its poor, than it has ever before and Atlanta is going to give in a way that will make every Atlanta proud of its city and will let the world know that Atlanta not only can afford to take care of its own, but it can also take care of its unfortunate, train its youth and guard its civic ideals, but that it is doing all those things with an open hand."

Mr. Smith asserted that the work of the health agencies in checking disease, in cleaning out places where epidemics might breed and in ministering to the sick is worth more than the Community Chest has asked for the support of all the 35 agencies.

"And you must not forget that the out-throat and gunman of today was the unguided boy of yesterday and that nine-tenths of the expense of

TWO PARTIES CUT CAMPAIGN FUNDS AS PROBE RESULT

Political Organizations Report Less Expenditures Than Customary in Elections.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, October 22.—Both national parties are reporting less expenditures than customary in off-year elections either because funds are difficult to obtain or because of a conscious desire to hold down the outlay in view of the campaign fund investigations which have caused so much embarrassment.

Reports to the clerk of the house show that thus far republicans have spent $347,000 and the democrats, $39,500. While expenditures in the last ten days of the campaign will increase these figures, the probability is that they will even then be considerably under the comparative totals.

MAYOR INVITES RAILROAD HEADS

Leaders To Confer on Plans To Lower Tracks in Connection With Viaducts Program.

Mayor Walter A. Sims issued a call Friday for a joint meeting of presidents of railroads over which the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts will extend, the bridge committee of city council and the viaduct committee of the bond commission. This call was made in a letter in line with a decision reached at a joint meeting of the viaducts body and the bridge committee and the conference will be held at the convenience of road officials.

The purpose of the meeting is to reopen the proposal to lower the railroad tracks 4.5 feet at the points where viaducts are proposed and to relieve an acute situation which has developed and which might prevent construction of the viaducts at all.

The viaducts contact committee holds that the city will be relieved of law suits which will be brought on if long approaches are constructed to the viaducts and tracks are lowered. They contend that property on Decatur, Pryor street and Central avenue and on Hunter street will not be affected and street levels will remain as they are at present if roads agree to the proposal to lower the tracks.

It has been announced that the roads already have declined to agree to the lowering and the joint session is slated to see if some agreement can be reached whereby roads can be persuaded to recede from their position.

GOTHAM BANKERS GIVE LUNCHEON TO QUEEN MARIE

Royal Guest Is Told One of Her Hosts Represents More Money Than Rumania's Debt.

COLUMBIA GIVES QUEEN WELCOME

Marie Is Guest of Honor at Dinner Given by Iron and Steel Institute and Makes Speech.

QUEEN MARIE MAKES TALK OVER RADIO

New York, October 22.—(A.P.)— Queen Marie, of Rumania, went on the air late tonight in a speech at a dinner of the American Iron and Steel Institute at the Hotel Commodore. Her speech was broadcasted by Station WJZ, New York.

Officials at WJZ said stations
WRC, Washington, and WBZ, Springfield, Mass., had been hooked up for the occasion. They said the broadcasting was in no way connected with the misunderstanding that occurred earlier in the evening, resulting in the failure of plans for the queen to speak at Aeolian hall through a national hookup of 21 stations.

The queen made a plea for peace and friendship among all peoples and forgetting of war hatreds. She urged America, with its wealth, and means for peace and prosperity, to aid Europe in presing its livelihood by teaching her efficiency and economy. The queen also spoke on her girlhood days and later life, describing her visits to various Rumanian hospitals during the time of the cholera epidemic.

Failure of Queen Marie to make the first scheduled radio talk was due, it is said, to a misunderstanding over time. A huge hook-up of 21 stations had been planned for 8:30 o'clock Friday night. The queen and a companion arrived at the hall at 8:05 o'clock. The queen did not have the time to wait due to other engagements and it was impossible to hook up the various stations before the time agreed upon.

New York, October 22.—(A.P.)—The dizzy whirl of America's reception for royalty today carried Queen Marie of Rumania through another phase of activities such as have crowded in upon her so thick and fast that she has been able to snatch only a few hours of sleep the last two nights.
Today's program gave her an opportunity to glimpse the giant scale of American finances and education.
New York bankers, representing administration of sums aggregating more than $7,000,000,000, received her at luncheon at the Bankers' club. Major Radu Irimescu, Rumanian banker, and one of the speakers, pointed out that the money represented by one of the hosts, whose name was not mentioned, was far greater than the entire national debt of Rumania.

Goes To Columbia.

After the luncheon, the queen was driven to Columbia university, and there inspected one of America's biggest educational institutions. She was reminded by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the university in his address of welcome, that it was one of her direct ancestors, King George II, who six generations ago gave authority for the charter creating what is now Columbia university.

Passing through Central park on the way to Columbia university, the queen had shown unusual interest in this playground of half a mile in width and two and one-half miles in length, situated in the very midst of the city.
So interested was the royal visitor that she had the top of her automobile pushed back so she could get a good view of the landscape. When people gave shouts of recognition, she waved gaily back at them.

Praise for Queen.

Major Irimescu, in his address at the Bankers' club, praised Queen Marie as an outstanding heroine in the world war.

"Through plague, pestilence and death the queen went everywhere undoubtedly," he said. "She lived in the midst of her people in the darkest hours in her country's history."

TEST CASE ENDED, LYNCHING PROBE 15 LOCAL BROKERS CAUSES ARREST TO GO ON TRIAL OF NINE PERSONS

Layton Gets Heavy Fine and Gang Term for Violating Trading in Futures Act.

Following a verdict of guilty in the case of B. L. Layton, local manager of Fenner & Beane, brokers, charged with violation of the Georgia law governing trading in futures on margin and imposition of a fine of $1,000 and sentence of 12 months on the chain gang, Solicitor General John
A. Boykin announced that 15 other brokers will be placed on trial Monday morning.

Brokers who will face a jury in Judge John D. Humphries' court are Harry Clarke, B. A. Bliven, W. M.
Broadbent, W. P. Rochester, T. S.
Denton, S. R. Christie, Jr., Clarence Mc-Lean, Walter W. King, Roy Bright-well, R. M. Wylie, William E. Neal, Louis Brooks and H. A. Barnhill.

The Layton verdict was reached at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning, thirty minutes after the jury resumed its deliberation of the case which was closed last Thursday. At 11 o'clock Thursday night, the jury appeared deadlocked and was locked up for the night. Judge John D. Humphries presided at the trial.

Judge Lectures Layton.
In passing sentence upon Layton, Judge Humphries said, "if this were the only case of the nature, the sentence would probably be different.
There are others who will be brought to trial, however, and it is the desire of the court to deter you from desiring to do this again and also to deter others. It is the sentence of the court that you pay a fine of $1,000 and also serve 12 months on the chain gang."

Motion for a new trial was filed by Judge Arthur G. Powell, of counsel for defense, and Judge Humphries set November 20, for the date of hearing on the motion. A bond of $5,000 was fixed for Layton's release pending the hearing.

16 Indictments Returned in Connection With Lynching of Dave Wright at Douglas.

Douglas, Ga., October 22.—(A.P.)— Nine men were arrested and jailed here today following the indictment yesterday of 16 additional men wanted in connection with the lynching here on August 27 of Dave Wright, the only person lynched in Georgia this year. The men arrested today are to await trial along with Major Brown, who has been held since August on a charge of murder for his alleged connection with the lynching.

Douglas was stirred by the action of the grand jury which came unher-salded. The officers immediately began arresting those named in the indictments and other arrests are expected to follow during the day.

A heavy guard was placed around the jail last night as a result of Mr.
Brown's attempt to liberate his husband. Mrs. Brown came to the jail in company with a number of men and demanded the keys to the jail.
They were refused her, and later she was placed under arrest. Officers promptly took her to Valdosta, where she is being held under a charge of attempting a jail delivery.

Mrs. Brown is the sister of Mrs.
Kelsie Collins, who was slain by Wright, the man later lynched.

Those who have been arrested under indictments in connection with the lynching of Wright are: Archie R.
Tanner, Willie Arnold, Almer Hester, Gaines Lastinger, John Strickland,
Major Brown, Jack Rollins, George Lott and Robert Bullard. Sixteen indictments have been found. Robert Bullard was arrested in Florida a few days ago. He is alleged to have given the information resulting in the indictments of the others.

DAVIS ARRESTED TRYING TO CASH CHECK FOR $1,042

Youth Takes Postal Inspectors to Point on Marietta Car Line and Shows Hidden Booty.

LONG CHASE ENDS FOR INSPECTORS

Davis' Simple Scheme of Stealing Federal Reserve Bank Checks
Bared With Arrest.

Robbery of approximately $100,000 worth of checks from the mail of the Federal Reserve bank at the Atlanta postoffice was disclosed Friday in the arrest of a man whom postal inspectors claim is Henry B.
Davis, 23, when the youth attempted to cash an alleged stolen and altered check at the Atlanta and Lowry National bank.

Davis was arrested when he presented for payment at the Atlanta bank a check for $1,- 042.14 made out by the cashior of the Elberton Loan and Savings company to the Federal Reserve bank, the name of the reserve bank having been erased and the name, R. L.
Burwell, one of Davis' alleged aliases, substituted, inspectors said.

With the capture of the youth, whom federal officers charge has operated under the aliases of Raymond L. Burwell, R. L. McDonald and Howard W. Beecher, a nationwide search of the postoffice inspection division is believed at an end.
Inspector Fleming, who has charge of the investigation, traced Davis to California and other states in efforts to apprehend him, it was stated.

Presenting the alleged stolen and altered Elberton check Friday morning at the Atlanta and Lowry bank, Davis was held until L. P. Whitfield, of the Burns agency, representative of the American Bankers' association, was summoned. Whitfield placed Davis under arrest and lodged him in the local police station and the postoffice inspection division was called on the case.

That School Girl Complexion

Clearness of skin and glow of health are founded on proper feeding, and that makes food selection an important matter. It is a mistake to appease the desire for food with anything that is convenient—and it is not good for the health.

Selecting the food for a family is an easy matter to the housewife who reads the grocery, market and produce advertisements in The Constitution.

Everything on the market is mentioned so that it is easy to make up a list of purchases that may be arranged in tempting and compatible combinations.

The prices quoted are the last for the day and no lower prices can be found by the tiresome method of shopping from store to store.

GRAND JURY INDICTS TWO FOR ASSAULT

R. D. McDuffie and John Willie Wright, of a North Boulevard address, were indicted jointly Friday by the Fulton county grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with the alleged assault on October 8 on Dr. Frank Edmondson, Fulton county game warden.

A misdemeanor indictment, charging failure to stop after an accident was returned Friday by the grand jury against McDuffie and Miss Oberlin. The indictment is in connection with the death of Mrs. Kirk. Testimony to the grand jury was to the effect that the machine which struck Mrs. Kirk was driven by McDuffie and that it was the property of Miss Oberlin. Nell Oberlin and McDuffie were indicted at a special session of the grand jury Wednesday on a charge of murder growing out of the same accident. They are being held in Fulton tower.

JURY ENDS PROBE OF CITY PRIMARY OF SEPTEMBER 22

The Fulton county grand jury, which for the past several sessions has been probing alleged irregularities in the city democratic primary held on September 22, Friday completed its investigation and is slated to submit a report on its findings in the term presentment which will be held down next Friday when the jury will be discharged by Judge John D. Humphries.

The twelve ballot boxes which were used in the primary were opened by the jury and a thorough investigation made, it is said. However, no definite information as to the findings of the body have been made public. The probe was requested by Cecil G. Allen, who was defeated for alderman of the third ward by Dr. P. L. Moon by a majority of 2 votes. Mr. Allen submitted a number of signed affidavits to the grand jury for investigation. Councilman Tom C. Morris also requested a check of the ballots in the race for councilman of the fifth ward, he having been defeated by a small majority by J. E. Bowden.

GEOLOGIC ENGINEER ADDRESSES CHEMISTS

Poole Maynard, geological and industrial engineer, of Atlanta, delivered the principal address Friday night at a meeting of the Georgia section of the American Chemical society, held in the Chamber of Commerce building. Mr. Maynard discussed the progress of development of chemical industrial resources, on which subject he is considered one of the foremost authorities in the state. Atlanta is the center of a great chemical industrial district, Mr. Maynard said, pointing out that within a radius of 50 to 100 miles of Atlanta are to be found the primary china clays, cyanite, the new source of Mullite refractories; flints, mica, feldspar, pyrite, amphibole, asbestos, granite types of building stone and a great many varieties of mineral and rock types. He called attention to the wonderful marbles, the unlimited deposits of Fuller's earth, the great white kaolin deposits, limestone and cement materials, showing the vast possibilities which await Atlanta and this section for further development of its many valuable resources.

THE BEST Pork Sausage You Ever Tasted

You buy lots of sausage—so-called pork sausage, because probably it is ground in the main from pork meat. But the trouble is, it is ground from small cuts—trimmings here and there; it has none of the choice cuts in it, and usually it fries up until only a small portion is left, with a lot of grease you cannot use.

Here's the Way We Make Our Pork Sausage

We purchased specially selected hogs—just the right size and fed upon the right food. They were killed Wednesday at the White Provision Company and delivered to us Thursday.

ALL the choice meat of these hogs—EVERY BIT OF IT, the shoulders and hams, and all the other choice cuts—was ground up by our expert men in our various markets. Every man was given careful instructions—every maker of this sausage has used exactly the same amount (according to the weight of the meat) of sage, pepper and salt. It has been seasoned just right to suit the great average masses. And it has the choicest, finest, best selected pork meat ever put into sausage in this country. It has cost us considerably more to make it this way than in the usual way of trimmings, etc., as practically all other sausage is made. You will have to pay a little more for it—but you will get the BEST SAUSAGE YOU EVER TASTED—and there will be no waste.

Today you will be glad to pay for this fine PORK SAUSAGE. Lb. 40^c

Body of A. A. Turner To Be Brought Here For Final Services

Funeral services for Asbury A. Turner, 88, Confederate veteran, who died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Williams, in Quitman, Miss., will be held this morning at 11 o'clock from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. Wrightman Bowden, 258 Moreland avenue. The Rev. Henry B. Mays and Dr. J. Wilky Quillian will officiate and interment will be in Decatur cemetery. The body will arrive in Atlanta early this morning.

A native of Forsyth county, Mr. Turner was engaged in the mercantile and banking business for many years in Forsyth, Ga., and later moved to Atlanta. During the war between the states he served with the First Georgia volunteers and during his stay in Atlanta was a member of the Tige Anderson camp of Confederate veterans. In addition to his two daughters, he is survived by another daughter, Mrs. W. C. Park, of Sparta, Ga., and a son, Dr. H. C. Turner, of Greenville, S. C.

MANLEY TO FACE JURY NOVEMBER 8

W. D. Manley, charged with fraud in suspension of the Farmers and Traders bank, of which he was president, will face trial in Fulton superior court before Judge John D. Humphries on November 8, it was announced Friday by Solicitor General John A. Boykin.

Manley was slated to go on trial in superior court Monday, October 25, but at the request of his attorneys, who presented to Mr. Boykin a written agreement that if the case was deferred from October 25 to November 8, no further move for continuance would be asked unless developments in the accused bankers' physical condition made it imperative.

In this event, according to the agreement, Manley and his attorneys will abide by the decision of a physician to be appointed by the state. Solicitor Boykin announced his decision Friday after a conference with Ruben R. Arnold and Hugh Powell, of counsel associated with the prosecution. Judge John D. Humphries declined Monday to grant a request for continuance of the case, asserting his opinion from the testimony given by Manley's physicians that the banker's condition probably would be the same six months hence as on the trial date.

centers and to learn new games, which will be introduced on the recreational grounds, it was announced Friday by Miss Dorothy Hinman, supervisor. Inter-playground football games are slated for this afternoon.

Special Art Exhibition To Close on October 31

Atlantans who have not yet visited the new High Museum of Art on Peachtree street, near Fifteenth, were reminded Friday by officials of the Atlanta Art association that it will be impossible to keep the magnificent collection now on view there longer than October 31. The Grand Central galleries, of New York, who gathered together the special collection for the opening of Atlanta's new art center, has pledged itself to return many of the magnificent pictures and sculptures to the galleries or owners from whom they were borrowed after that date.

The museum and exhibition will be open Sunday, but only to members of the association and their friends, it was announced Friday. The general public is admitted each week day from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. for the small charge of 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, while the Grand Central exhibition is on.

The attendance this week has shown a steady increase and it is expected that a similar experience will be the record for next week, the closing days of the exhibition. Over 600 viewed the pictures Friday.

Many special groups have gone to see the collection. One or other of the famous artists, here for the exhibition, such as Stanley Dickinson, A. N. A., or Albert Stern, A. N. A., conduct such parties through the galleries, explaining the pictures as they go from room to room.

The Fourth National Bank club, 125 strong, attended the exhibit Friday night, while a group from Georgia Tech were among the hundreds who attended Thursday.

Several portrait commissions have already resulted from the exhibition with a considerable number of pictures and sculptures sold. Mr. Dickinson is to paint a portrait of Mrs. J. M. High, donor of the magnificent museum, and Mr. Stern is engaged on a pastel portrait of Mrs. W. A. Shallenberger. Others are pending, to be announced later.

Many distinguished artists from all parts of the country have come to Atlanta for the exhibition. Miss Lucy Stanton, one of the best known painters of miniatures in the country, formerly of Atlanta, but now residing in New York, was seen at the museum Friday and she stated that she was here for the entire period of the showing.

Frank T. Reynolds, well-known Atlanta hotel official and first secretary of Georgia Kiwanis, again is state secretary of Kiwanis, having been named by Arthur L. Broke, new state president, and members of the executive committee at a meeting Friday morning at the Ansley hotel.

Mr. Reynolds has been one of the most active Kiwanians in the state, and although he has held no position in the state body for the past several years he has been actively interested in the work as a member of the Atlanta club.

Mr. Reynolds has been connected with Dinkler Hotels, Inc., for several years and is first assistant to Carling Dinkler, president.

Mr. Reynolds toured Georgia in organizing Kiwanis clubs several years ago.

Mrs. R. L. Turman, president of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, made the principal talk at the quarterly meeting of that organization Friday afternoon at the chamber of commerce. She spoke on the nine amendments to the Georgia constitution to be voted on in November general elections.

In her discussion, which was for the purpose of familiarizing members with issues that will confront them, Mrs. Turman stressed the three amendments of most local interest, as she believed. They were the state bond increase, additional school tax for counties embracing a city of 200,000 population, and the amendment to authorize collection of vital statistics.

Included in the other business brought up at the meeting were the naming of a partial list of delegates to attend the association's state convention to be held in Savannah, October 28-30, and passing of a motion to elect officers for next year some time this fall instead of in January. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Edgar Neely, vice president.

Mrs. A. L. Joynes is laid to rest in St. Augustine.

St. Augustine, Fla., October 22—Funeral services were held today for Mrs. A. L. Joynes, who died here on October 20 after an illness of fourteen months.

Mrs. Joynes was the wife of the manager of the Southern Bell Telephone company of this city. She was born in Paducah, Ky., February 14, 1870.

Funeral services were held in the Memorial Presbyterian church, with Dr. Barton B. Bigler officiating. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery.

Three one-act plays, the product of the Playcrafters, will be presented to-night at 8 o'clock in the Playcrafters theater, off Atlanta street, near Gordon street, in West End, according to Fred Stewart, director of Playcrafters.

Plays for tonight are, Mollere's "Les Precieuses Ridicules," Eugene O'Neill's "Where the Cross Is Made" and Katherine Bosworth's "Frankie's Gift." The last named is an original play by a member of Oglethorpe University players.

Later in the season the players plan to do Edna St. Vincent Millay's "Aria," Lord Dunsany's "The Gods of the Mountains," Eugene O'Neill's "The Long Voyage Home," and possibly "Pellaea and Melisande." Production of Louis Vollmer's "Sun Up" also is scheduled as one of the full length plays to be done this season.

An admission charge of 25 cents is made and subscribers cards for the entire season of nine bills may be secured from Fred Stewart, 1237 Gordon street, S. W., at $2 each.

Houston is the latest development of the Atlanta unit, and the A. & P. stores have met with great success there.

It is pointed out that the Atlanta unit is advertising in 68 newspapers, which is proof enough of the vast amount of business the A. & P. company is doing in the particular territory, which, as is shown by the number of branch stores, is doing an immense business.

Aside from 40 large food depots advantageously located throughout the country, which supply the thousands of stores in the chain, the company operates its own coffee roasters, bakeries, salmon canneries in Alaska, and other kindred plants. The purchasing office in San Francisco handles all the California fruit and Pacific coast products. Five coffee buying houses are located in South America. An almost magical growth started in other states throughout the country.

On March 1, 1923, the Atlanta unit was decentralized and R. F. Vinson was made general superintendent. Beginning with a mere handful of 39 stores, the territory previously known as the Atlanta unit, has now a total of almost 700 stores.

Houston is the latest development of the Atlanta unit, and the A. & P. stores have met with great success there.

It is pointed out that the Atlanta unit is advertising in 68 newspapers, which is proof enough of the vast amount of business the A. & P. company is doing in the particular territory, which, as is shown by the number of branch stores, is doing an immense business.

Aside from 40 large food depots advantageously located throughout the country, which supply the thousands of stores in the chain, the company operates its own coffee roasters, bakeries, salmon canneries in Alaska, and other kindred plants. The purchasing office in San Francisco handles all the California fruit and Pacific coast products. Five coffee buying houses are located in South America

STATE NURSES OPEN CONVENTION

Savannah, Ga., October 22.—(AP)—The Georgia State Association of Graduate Nurses, opened the second of their three-day meeting this morning at 9 o'clock in the DeSoto hotel.

The election of officers for the ensuing year will take place tomorrow afternoon. The general opinion seems to be that Miss Lucy M. Hall, of Savannah, the present president, will be reelected.

A number of addresses were delivered this morning. Among the speakers were: Lieutenant Colonel W. B. Crawford, M. D.; Colonel Reynolds Burt, commander of Fort Screven, and Mrs. Charlotte M. Heilman, field secretary of the American Red Cross. The early part of the morning program was devoted to the work of the Red Cross, with Mrs. Mae M. Jones, chairman of the state committee, Red Cross, presiding.

Miss Emma Dozier, of Augusta, was made chairman of the state committee, succeeding Mrs. Jones.

There are now about 130 nurses registered.

our police department is a penalty for the neglect of responsibilities we dodged 10 and 20 years ago," he declared.

Organization Complete.

Leaders of the six soliciting divisions which will canvass the city from end to end for the budget of $521,696 reported their organizations complete and ready to go.

George W. West, chairman of the individual subscribers' division; J. Sherrard Kennedy, head of the special gifts committee; Robert Gregg, head of the industrial employees' division; Frank H. Neely, head of the commercial employees' division; Joseph T. Rose, head of the public employees' division; and E. Allison Thorne, head of the utility employees' division, each spoke briefly in review of the work accomplished and reported that first gifts in every instance had been made voluntarily during the opening day before subscribers' cards were issued to all the workers.

The total amount of the budget for this year was announced as $521,696, which is $19,000 less than was asked for the support of the agencies in last year's campaign, but is $19,000 more than was raised by popular subscription one year ago. They will try to get it both through securing larger gifts from those who gave last year and through enlisting more supporters behind the cause of social service and human relief in the city.

Services Described.

The types of service rendered by the agencies united in the chest were sketched briefly by Marvin Underwood, chairman of the speakers' committee.

In reviewing the activities of his committee during the four weeks' educational campaign which has been waged preparatory to the actual drive for funds.

Training Youth.

Its work in training boys and girls in its character-building agencies for good citizenship and for service, he said, makes its relief program more effective than it could be for double the amount spent if it were not for the volunteer assistance of young people enlisted as volunteers through their own organizations.

The relief program, he asserted, starts at the root of all the problems that bring men and women to the need for charity and roots out the causes, healing those who have become destitute through sickness, training to those who have been unable to meet the economic demands of life, and tiding over periods of stress with temporary relief to prevent temporary distress from permanently wrecking homes and sending children to institutions for the orphaned and friendless.

The institutions which care for children, both the orphaned and those temporarily homeless through illness or misfortune of parents, would be more overcrowded than they are except for this preventive work, Mr. Underwood said.

The first report on campaign progress will be made at luncheon on the Ansley roof at 12:30 o'clock Monday. Quotas which have been assigned the different groups will be announced Sunday. Report meetings will be held daily during the remainder of the campaign. The quotas will be assigned so that each team in each division will have an approximately equal burden to carry in reaching the goal of $521,696, the standing of the teams each day depending entirely on the activity of the workers rather than any difference in the potential giving power of the territory.

17 AMERICANS DIE IN STORM

aid. They said that few buildings were left standing on the Isle of Pines.

Roads leading out of Havana still are choked with fallen trees and debris and considerable difficulty is being met by relief workers trying to reach the injured.

Lack of wire communications also is adding to the difficulties, although communication with a few places has been established by use of the wireless equipment of the cruiser Cuba.

Government Aids.

All the forces of the government are working strenuously to relieve suffering. Lines of trucks left this morning for the interior with cargoes of supplies.

To protect the people a presidential decree has been issued regulating the prices of foodstuffs and necessary articles.

Havana itself is rapidly assuming its normal aspect.

The famous race course at Oriental park was partly wrecked. Many horses were killed, among them a few which only recently arrived from the United States. The residences of a number of Americans at Marianao are reported to have suffered damage.

It is believed that many members of crews lost their lives when their vessels were sunk or dashed against the rocks in Havana harbor. So far 24 bodies have been taken from the bay.

Immediately after the storm a commission was formed for the relief of Americans and Cubans affected by it. The Americans on the commission included R. M. Macarty, president of the chamber of commerce, A. K. Kalm, and E. A. Anderson, the American consul.

The American embassy has issued an appeal for aid for the sufferers and efforts are being made to arrange for their immediate relief.

A temporary hospital has been set up in the hotel at Nueva Gerona where the injured in that city are being attended.

The gravely injured: At Nueva Gerona: F. O. Melton, Lawrence Rankin, David Whiteker, Frank Felton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Athem, E. Snider, Mrs. A. Boucher. At San Francisco: Sarah Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Samuels.

At Santa Barbara: Harles and Maria Patchment. Injured: Nueva Gerona: John Rottwick, Walter S. Jones.

Santa Fe: Adam Weigard, J. D. Pearson, Era Levier.

ISLE OF PINES RUINED BY GREAT HURRICANE.

Havana, October 22.—(AP)—The Isle of Pines, lying to the south of Cuba, virtually was wiped out by the hurricane of Wednesday afternoon and night, according to H. P. McCarty, A. B. Klein and E. Anderson, who reached Havana today from the island.

The three Americans, residents of the Isle of Pines, left Nueva Gerona Thursday afternoon aboard the steamer Cristobal Colon, which had 52 seriously injured persons aboard. At 1 o'clock this morning the steamer reached the port of Havana about 40 miles south of Havana. The three men left the ship and made their way to Havana in search of aid for the injured. They went immediately on reaching the capital, to the sanitary department and then to the American embassy, petitioning the Cuban government and Ambassador Crowder for immediate help.

Buildings in Ruins.

The old Catholic church at Nueva Gerona, the city hall and most of the buildings of that place are in ruins. A hospital has been established in the hotel, where all of the less gravely injured are being cared for by the only physician of the port, who also was injured.

The reports brought to Havana by Eladio N. Villa, of Nueva Gerona, are that 17 Americans were killed. When he left the island the total dead was placed at 22, while about 100 were on the list of injured, 21 of them in serious condition.

Senor Villa, who is an old newspaperman, said there had been no news from the settlements of McKinley and Los Indios, and that 50 additional persons were reported to have been injured in Santa Barbara.

Immediately after the force of the storm had spent itself, every able-bodied man of Nueva Gerona set to work, searching in the debris for injured and repairing the steamer Cristobal Colon. This vessel was badly damaged, but it was the only hope of communication with Cuba, as the wireless station had been destroyed.

The Davis family of five American negroes was entirely wiped out by the storm. Their home was at Santa Barbara, about 10 miles from Nueva Gerona.

RELIEF WORKERS ARE SENT.

Miami, Fla., October 22.—Relief workers have been dispatched by the Red Cross to Key Largo island, where it is reported greater damage was done by the hurricane of Wednesday than that of September 18, according to Henry M. Baker, national disaster director of the Red Cross.

Several feet of water is standing in some houses in Key Largo city and thousands of dollars' worth of goods done to the stocks of merchants in the storm area.

Baker told the United News tonight that the force of workers sent to the island would be ample to care for the situation.

NASSAU REPORTS NO FATALITIES.

Nassau, Bahamas, October 22.—(AP)—Nassau, Bahamas, reports that no fatalities occurred in the Bahamas group weathered the latest tropical hurricane with no reported fatalities and no property damage.

Favorable advices from several stations in the path of the storm were received last night and today by the government station here after communication had been reestablished. Storm-racked Bimini, suffering from the effects of two recent hurricanes, appeared to have escaped with little loss, although in the direct path of the disturbance after it veered off sharply from the lower Florida coast.

Settlement Point, located on the northwestern tip of Great Bahama island, due east of Palm Beach, Fla., remained unaccounted for tonight, but in the light of reports from neighboring points, no great damage was believed suffered here.

Still bearing the marks of the devastating hurricane of late July, Nassau and the island of New Providence, seat of the colonial government, was not hit badly by this storm. The S. S. Munamar of the Munson Steamship company, was in the harbor when the storm passed near, and immediately put out to sea to ride out the gale. The vessel today had been unable to reenter port because of heavy weather still prevailing.

The settlement at Westend, along the northernmost group, one of the principal liquor ports of the group, came on the air and reported the passage of the storm with no great damage.

TWO ISLANDS HIT HARD BY HURRICANE.

West Palm Beach, Fla., October 22.—(AP)—The islands of Bimini and Abaco in the Bahamas may have received the brunt of the tropical hurricane which swept northeast from Cuba and the southern tip of Florida Thursday morning.

Nothing had been heard from either island Friday night, P. H. Burns, government attaché at Nassau, informed the Associated Press here, and the governor of the Bahamas was sending boats to investigate in the belief that the center of the storm may have passed either one of the islands.

Radio station at Bimini, the little seaport on the island of the same name, had not been heard since the hurricane by island stations.

Nassau, the largest town in the Bahamas, escaped with little damage and no loss of life, the governor reported, but Eleuthera, the largest island west of Nassau, and Harbour Island, a smaller one north of Eleuthera, experienced high winds and low barometric pressure of several hours Thursday morning.

AMERICAN AID SENT TO HELP STORM VICTIMS.

Washington, October 22.—Aid has been rushed to the hurricane swept Isle of Pines from the American naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, the navy department was informed tonight.

Admiral Hughes, commander-in-chief of the naval base at Guantanamo, dispatched one light cruiser, a destroyer, and two airplanes with doctors, medical attendants, food and supplies at 10 o'clock tonight.

A frantic appeal for aid was sent to the American naval commandant at Key West by American Ambassador Crowder at Havana.

"Request the commandant," Crowder wired, "to expedite aid to the injured and dead Americans in the Isle of Pines. Nueva Gerona and Batabona are in great need of supplies and medical assistance and food. Request airplane assistance if possible, Isle of Pines wiped out."

The Red Cross stated here that it would take no active steps other than to furnish funds.

Secretary of State Kellogg today made a personal contribution of $500 to the fund for the relief of Cuban hurricane victims. Red Cross officials stated that chapters throughout the country have been instructed to receive contributions toward the fund. No definite amount has been set for the fund but all monies received will be sent to the Cuban Red Cross at Havana, it was stated.

INJURED ARE BROUGHT TO HAVANA BY SHIP.

Havana, Cuba, October 22.—(AP)—The steamer Cuba, arrived at Havana today bringing 22 injured from the Isle of Pines. Mayor Llorca, of Nueva Gerona, who was in charge of the party said that although 17 Americans had been reported killed in the hurricane, it was possible that some were British subjects as all persons with American-sounding names were classified as Americans in the first list. A number of Canadians and other British subjects reside on the Isle of Pines.

Aboard the Cuba, the mayor announced, were the following Americans: Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kennedy, Carry Eubank, Person Boid, Emma Piber, Isame Rodden, Minay Rodden and Max Rodden.

The most seriously injured who could not be taken aboard the steamer Cristobal Colon were placed aboard the Cuba and brought northward in an effort to find medical aid for them.

NATIONAL APPEAL MADE FOR FUNDS FOR CUBA.

Washington, October 22.—(AP)—The American Red Cross sent out a nationwide appeal today for contributions for relief of sufferers in storm-swept Cuba.

Within a few hours after the call was issued a number of donations had been received, among them $500 from Secretary Kellogg. The organization will make an appropriation, probably $25,000, from its disaster fund to provide for immediate relief work.

All funds received will be sent to the Cuban Red Cross through the American embassy at Havana which itself was severely damaged by the hurricane. Reports received here today told of the need of food and American naval vessels are being held in readiness to be dispatched to the island if needed.

At the white house it was said President Coolidge had been informed that the Cuban Red Cross was making a survey and would report later to the American Red Cross as to what assistance, if any, would be needed.

METHODIST REVIVAL CLOSES AT AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—The Walter Anthony revival, which has been in progress during two weeks at the First Methodist church here, closed Wednesday night. Large crowds attended the services, and Dr. Anthony, by his forceful preaching, made a deep impression upon Americus churchgoers. Special music during the revival was furnished under direction of Rev. Ralph Porterfield, of Macon.

Buy Bread
This Way?

Buying bread regardless of name or quality is like shopping blindfolded—you never know what you get. Bread should be purchased with as much or more care than any other food product.

There are three factors determining the purchase of good bread: FIRST—the reliability of the manufacturer; SECOND—the quality; THIRD—the freshness. In Merita Bread you are guaranteed all three of these factors, because the name "Merita" on a loaf of bread guarantees the finest quality ingredients—and for freshness, it just isn't sold any other way. Insist on Merita when buying bread.

Add Amusement Features To Radio Show Program

Atlanta's great indoor commercial exposition, the second radio-electrical exposition, will end Saturday with an augmented amusement program to entertain the throngs.

Attendance has already been twice as great as the attendance last year, and Saturday is expected to see the largest crowds of the week viewing the attractive booths of radio and electrical goods which fill the auditorium.

Approaching the end of the ticket-selling contest, young ladies of the "On-To-Hollywood club," sponsored by the show, were ready Friday night to spend a busy day Saturday before making the final return which will determine the winner of the vacation trip to the California film capital.

Late Friday Miss Thelma Kimberley, of 99 Park drive, was holding the lead she has maintained for some time, but, according to Foster B. Steward, managing director, Miss Mary Ridgway, of the Atlanta Biltmore, and Mrs. Mary Allen, of 279 South Whiteford avenue, were closely grouped in competition for her place.

Postponement of the amateur radio operators' contest until next Tuesday night was announced Friday by Henry L. Reid, sectional chairman of the American Radio league. The test will be held at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Reid and Major Walter Van Nostrand, Jr., supervisor of radio, will be judges. A Grebe short wave receiver will be awarded the operator who copies the continental code the fastest.

While the principal entertainment features of the show are the radio

DEBT COMMISSION OPPOSED TO PACT

Paris, October 22.—(AP)—Adrien Dariau, chairman of the special debt commission of the chamber of deputies, has concluded his report on the debt question, which will be presented to the finance committee of the chamber next Wednesday.

The report is a voluminous document covering 101 typewritten pages. It makes no outright recommendation, either favorable or unfavorable to ratification by parliament of the Berenger-Mellon accord, but the arguments are presented in such a manner as to leave no doubt in the mind of the reader that M. Dariau is opposed to ratification of the agreement as it stands.

Not Opposed to Principle.
"I am not hostile to the principle of the ratification of debt agreements signed by France," M. Dariau told a correspondent for the Associated Press, "but we must be safeguarded against the future. If assurance were given by the United States for the creation of an international commission composed of financiers, bankers and experts from all countries interested, and if this commission were entrusted with the task of adjusting differences arising between the governments, and to stipulate upon each country's capacity to pay at all times, I would unhesitatingly recommend unrestricted ratification."

"If I had a letter from the United States government, similar to that received in the British debt agreement, safeguarding against transfer upon ratification of the debt bonds under commercialization of the debt, my recommendation would be: 'Ratify at once.'"

M. Dariau then referred to article seven of the Berenger-Mellon agreement which provides for the issuance by France to the United States of the request of the secretary of the treasury of debt bonds suitable for sale to the public.

"I don't mind telling you," he said, "that article seven of the Berenger-Mellon agreement is the cause of all the trouble."

Created Disappointment.
"It created the greatest disappointment among the French people. We know we are safe against commercialization of the debt bonds under the present American government, but we know that we will be disappointed if future American governments toward France in the course of 62 years. Who knows the trend of the policies of French governments in the past? This article seven is a perpetual menace above the heads of Frenchmen."

Like the majority of Frenchmen discussing the problem of debts, the French financial expert touched on the sentimental side of the question. "Our men shed their blood together on many battlefields, and I think that France should receive somewhat better treatment than the nation we both combated," he concluded.

CONVICTED FELON IS NOW INDICTED FOR ESCAPE EFFORT

M. Markowitz, under sentence of seven years for alleged swindling of Atlanta banks, was indicted Friday by the Fulton county grand jury on a charge of attempted escape as the result of an attempted jail delivery from Fulton tower which was frustrated last Sunday by Deputy Sheriff J. D. Baxendale.

A felony indictment was also returned against Will Groves, alias Will Graves, and Gertrude Simmons, negro trustees at the tower, charging aiding Markowitz in his unsuccessful attempt.

T. J. Indictment against Markowitz alleged that on October 16 he "secretly obtained 10 hacksaw blades and two blow torches" with which he made the attempted escape. The indictment against the negroes alleged that they provided the saw blades and torches for Markowitz.

When the plot was discovered Markowitz had sawed through three bars of his cell and had begun sawing on three bars of an outer window in the jail, from which he had planned to slip to the ground to freedom, with a woven rope of lead ticking which was long enough to reach the back court yard, four stories below.

THE PROBLEM:

What is the sum total of the figures forming the elephant? Simply add them up to get the solution.

There are no marks, lines or characters in the elephant except figures. These figures range from 2 to 9, each standing alone. There are no "ones" or "ciphers." There are no groups of figures such as "23" or "42." The heads of the "6's" are distinctly curved, while the tails of the "9's" are straight, or practically so. There is no trick or illusion of any description in the chart.

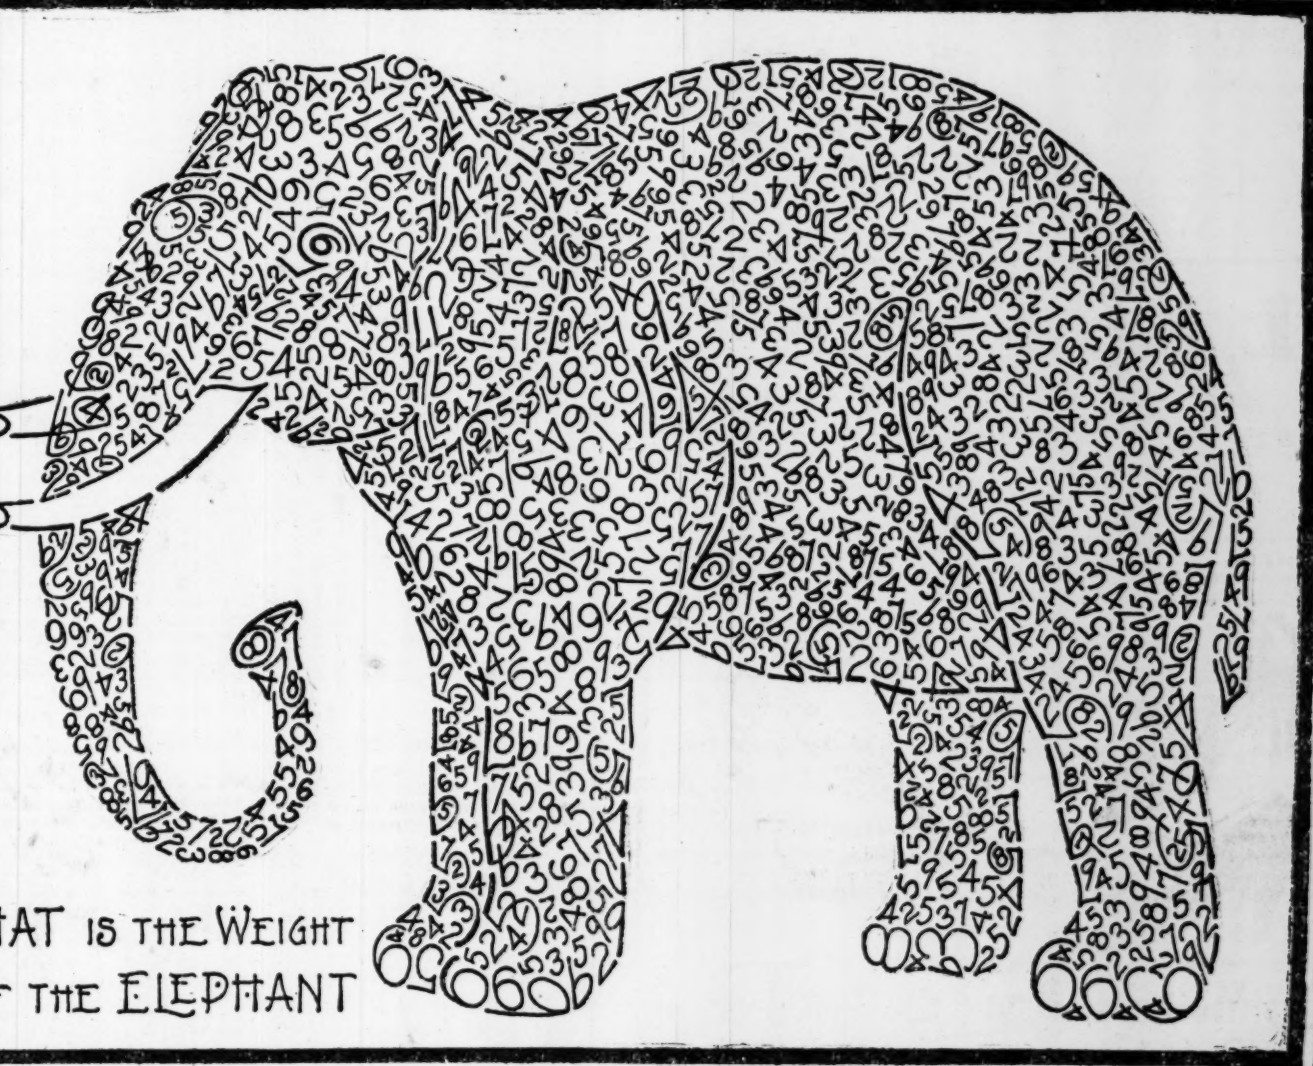

General Rules of The Contest

1. All bona fide residents of Georgia and adjoining states, meaning Alabama, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, east and middle Tennessee, may take part in this contest, except employees of The Atlanta Constitution, members of their families, and those who have won first and second awards in similar contest conducted by The Constitution.
2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire, provided payment of one of the four amounts designated in the award list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one award. Three registered a solution cannot be changed.
3. The Atlanta Constitution offers these awards for individual effort. While it is proper for members of the same family, or of one household, or of one group of persons working together, to send in a solution of the puzzle, only one award will be paid to any one person, household, or group of persons working together. When solutions are submitted by one or more of the same family, or more than one of the same household, or more than one of the same group of persons, who it is believed has submitted a solution of the puzzle, the right is reserved to refund the amount of money paid for solutions and return the solution it believed has been submitted contrary to the rules.
4. The Atlanta Constitution is to decide all questions which may arise and are not covered by the published rules, and those entering the contest agree to abide by such decisions and accept them as final and conclusive.
5. All solutions must be mailed or delivered to the Atlanta Constitution office on or before 9 o'clock Saturday, November 27, 1926. Solutions sent by mail bearing postmark of that date will be accepted. All solutions sent by mail after that date will be accepted only if accompanied by a solution of the puzzle, the right is reserved to refund the amount of money paid for solutions and return the solution it believed has been submitted contrary to the rules.

Applicants should give name in full, state age and occupation, and when a beneficiary is given be sure to state full Christian name.

CLOSING DATE

The Great ELEPHANT PUZZLE CONTEST will close 9:00 P. M., Saturday, November 27, 1926.

The earlier you send in your solution, the longer time you will have to go over your figures and send in another solution if you FIND YOU CAN DO BETTER. Additional charts may be secured by calling at the Circulation Department, or sending a self-addressed stamped envelope for mailing them.

IMPORTANT FACTS TO REMEMBER

While the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win one of the first nine awards, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners pay. This is explained in the award list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

The time a solution is received has no bearing upon its winning an award. Accuracy is what counts. Not more than one award will be awarded to any one person.

Former Nun and Soldier Eighty Marines Arrive Are Planning for Wedding In City To Guard Mails

CHILDHOOD SWEETHEARTS 25 YEARS AGO

New Bedford, Mass., October 22.—(AP)—Childhood sweethearts, who for a quarter century had remained unmarried and served society, one as a soldier, the other as a nun, are making preparations for their wedding.

The nun resumed her name of Miss Anna Le Brun, six months ago. The soldier is Sergeant Frank Levesque, of the 13th engineers, Fort Humphrey, Va. Duty still holds him so that the ceremony will take place in Washington, where Miss Le Brun is going on November 8.

Twenty-five years ago they met in New Bedford. She was 16 and he was 21. A few months later she had fared to her family and entered the Gray nunnery at Montreal. Two years later she took her vows as a sister of charity for life. She taught school, mothered orphans and nursed the sick in Montreal, Minneapolis, Toledo and Lawrence, Mass.

Last April, after long consultation with her superiors she obtained special dispensation from the pope releasing her from her vows because "the world called her and she must return." With recommendations and a God speed from the sisters she returned here to train as a nurse.

Meanwhile Frank Levesque had entered the army. He went to France during the world war and entered Germany with the conquerors. Most of his leaves were stationed in this country were spent with his mother in New Bedford. She died a short time ago but on a visit he met Miss Le Brun and old acquaintance was renewed.

other checks stolen from the postoffice, federal officers said. Accompanied by inspectors, federal reserve officials and Whitfield, Davis led the way to a cache in an evergreen bush ten miles from the city on the Marietta car line, where a large number of small checks were found in their original envelopes. One of the recovered checks was for the amount of $41,123.22, and another was for $10,000. Others were made out for amounts ranging from $5 to $1,000, and officers allege a number of large checks were found on Davis' person.

According to inspectors, Davis' plan of operation was simple, consisting merely of hovering near the federal reserve box at the local postoffice until the bank porter came to secure the mail. In transferring the huge amounts of mail from the bank's postal box to a mail bag, the porter inadvertently dropped letters, and before he could recover them, being engrossed with storing the mail in the bag, Davis would pocket the letters without being noticed, inspectors allege.

Erasing the federal reserve bank's name from the checks, Davis would substitute one of his aliases and cash them, officers said. The inspection division claims that Davis cashed at stolen and altered check for $1,000 at the Third National bank of Knoxville, Tenn., on August 15, and another for $200 at the Cherokee bank, of Murphy, N. C., on August 21. Since that time, Inspector Fleming has been constantly on his trail, though unable to connect with the man until today.

Rubber Stamp Outfit.

When arrested, Davis had in his possession a rubber stamp outfit for making the alterations, inspectors said.

A warrant sworn out against Davis by postal inspectors for his hearing this morning before Commissioner Lebetter charges the accused man with stealing from a postoffice and larceny on a government reservation.

Though a simple scheme, Davis' plan of operation was an exceedingly dangerous one, Inspector Fleming said. He pointed out, however, that a lawbreaker naturally would suspect a check for $1,000 unless the man presenting it was known or properly identified. Another alteration in the Elkhorn check, alleged by inspectors to have been made, was the changing of the date from October 18 to October 20, the rubber stamp being employed to this end.

Davis Friday night declined to make a statement for publication, although he declared that "some of the charges against me are not true." When questioned by newspapermen about his home town, he refused to divulge his original place of residence, but said that he has "lived all over the country." "Tell the people I am from Mexico," he added, grinning.

INTEREST IS KEEN IN COTTON PARLEY

given at the Memphis conference was had in Atlanta Friday when M. B. Wellborn, governor of the Sixth District Federal Reserve bank here, made public a letter sent to all member banks in which he announced that the reserve bank here stood ready to extend necessary credit to member banks for the purpose of harvesting and marketing the 1926 cotton crop.

Governor Wellborn's letter said: "In order that there may be no misunderstanding of the attitude of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, you are advised that it stands ready to extend the necessary credit to member banks for the purpose of harvesting and marketing in an orderly manner the 1926 cotton crop."

Advances will be made, as heretofore, to member banks on notes, drafts and bills of exchange issued or drawn in accordance with the terms of the federal reserve act and the regulations of the federal reserve board.

President's Committee.

The special cotton committee which Mr. Meyer heads was appointed recently by the president in order to assist in finding a remedy for the present crisis which arose with the sudden drop in cotton prices of almost $35 a bale this year. This, based on a 16,000,000 bale crop, the government estimate as of October 1 placed the crop at 16,627,000 with current expectations around 17,000,000 bales—represents a depreciation of $500,000,000 in the value of this year's crop. The president's committee includes Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary Hoover, of the department of commerce, and Secretary Fanning, of the department of agriculture. Mr. Meyer, head of the committee, is managing director of the war finance corporation.

The conference today will take up disposal of the surplus of last year, withdrawal of 4,000,000 bales of the 1926 crop and financing of such withdrawals, to be held in bonded warehouses, marketing of this apparent surplus in an orderly fashion, and the bringing about of at least a 25 percent reduction throughout the south in cotton acreage in 1927.

In connection with problems facing the cotton planter, Judge E. Allen Frost, of Chicago, speaking at the chamber of commerce service committee luncheon Friday, advocated establishment in Atlanta of a great school of institute for an intensive study of the combination of elements in cotton and possible uses for them when discovered which he declared would make such a crisis as the present one forever impossible.

Judge Frost is an outstanding lawyer and has a reputation as an orator and a keen student of economics.

Undiscovered Uses.

"Doubtless there are thousands of undiscovered uses to which cotton can be adapted to an incalculable profit to the growers of this state," said Judge Frost. "The elements that make up cotton are the same elements in different combinations that appear in many commodities or products susceptible to trade exploitation."

Judge Frost spoke on "Georgia's Opportunity," which he emphasized laid in the establishment of a permanent or stable market for a great raw product, which in this state is cotton.

"Today you cannot put an intensive sales force back of cotton because it is a raw product and in that form cannot be marketed."

"It took one chemist 13 years to find out the possibilities of indigo. When that was discovered it took manufacturers only three years to build up a big industry."

"The adaptabilities of cotton should be determined in far less time than it took to discover means by which indigo could be utilized. Instead of one chemist engaging in research work, there should be large numbers of chemists studying the combination of elements in cotton."

CAROLINA TO RETIRE
300,000 COTTON BALES.

Columbia, S. C., October 22.—(AP)—Initial steps were taken here today for the formation of a $1,000,000 corporation to retire 300,000 bales of South Carolina's 1926 cotton crop from the market for 20 months or more as a measure to meet the situation produced by the bumper crop and resulting low prices.

Plans for the organization were framed at a conference attended by Eugene Meyer, chairman of President Coolidge's cotton committee; A. C. Williams, federal loan commissioner, and 25 bankers and business men of the state. By a resolution adopted, details of organizing the proposed corporation were placed in the hands of the executive committee of the State Bankers' association. Reduction of acreage in 1927 was declared to be a necessary factor in any scheme for stabilizing the price, in the resolution, and all bankers, business men and farmers were urged to lend their efforts toward cutting the acreage at least 25 per cent.

Mr. Meyer, just prior to the meeting, issued a statement saying the federal intermediate credit banks were prepared to advance as much as $200,000 to meet the cotton price situation and cautioning farmers not to get "panicky" over reported prospects for a big, movement crop report Monday. His statement also emphasized the need for adequate machinery being set up in the cotton belt to make possible the operation of the federal intermediate credit bank system, and it was to meet this suggestion that no segregation is made for congressional accounting purposes.

The following statements of senatorial candidates were received by the house clerk today:

Charles W. Waterman, Colorado republican: receipts, none; expenses, $3,000.

Reed Smoot, Utah republican: Receipts, none; expenses, $1,000.

Harry Haws, Missouri democrat: Receipts, none; expenses, $5,000.

John J. Blaine, Wisconsin republican: Receipts, $49.50; expenses $500.

Walter F. George, Georgia democrat: Receipts, none; expenses, none.

He reported expenditures of $9,546.12 in the primary, which is the real election in Georgia, there being no republican vote of any consequence.

Hiram Bingham, Connecticut republican: Receipts, none; expenses, $5,000.

Porter H. Dale, Vermont republican: Receipts, none; expenses $2,370.68.

Frank L. Smith, Illinois republican, whose primary campaign has been voiced by Gen. W. L. Sibert, chairman-engineer of the state docks committee also the Alabama Farm Bureau federation, the Selma, Ala. Chamber of Commerce, and the Montgomery Cotton exchange.

Mobile Favors Ship Operation By Government

Mobile, Ala., October 22.—(AP)—Mobile and this gulf section is unanimous that the government should continue operation of the American merchant marine until it has been demonstrated that private capital can take over the route and properly operate them, Commissioners W. S. Hill and Roland K. Smith were told today at the hearing here today. Board representatives were told this opinion also was that of the state of Alabama, as General Sibert, speaking in behalf of docks commission, which is building a ten million dollar port terminal here declared that in his opinion, the proper industrial and agricultural development of the country depended largely upon the development of ports near these sections. The ports cannot be developed unless ships can be sent to them to carry the products, he said. The necessity of having ships owned and operated by the government if the interests of each section and each port is to be impartially protected was stressed by General Sibert. He pointed out that the west was largely developed through the assistance of the government and he has no reason why the government should not develop the merchant marine.

WAYCROSS CITIZEN HAS COTTON PLAN

Waycross, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Let every farmer take one-third of his cotton to a warehouse and get a receipt stating that the cotton cannot be sold until August, 1927. Then let the farmer borrow 10 cents a pound on this receipt provided he signs a pledge to reduce his acreage next year by 40 per cent.

This is the suggestion made by J. M. Cox, former mayor of Waycross and a prominent planter, for the solution of the present cotton problem.

Mr. Cox points out that this would take the required number of bales off the market and would cause the price to rise. At the same time the cotton would not be destroyed.

The cotton placed in the warehouses would not increase the crop next year because the farmers had signed a pledge to reduce the acreage forty per cent, Mr. Cox states.

"My Life Story"

Written by Rudolph Valentino

49TH INSTALLMENT.

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution.)

After this terrifying experience trying to board the Leviathan, lying outside Cherbourg harbor, we finally made the dock again, with more pitching and tossing, more ravenous embraces of waves and more tumultuous pelting of rain than I would have believed it possible for three people in a frail craft to live through.

Had I seen such a scene as this one on the screen or read about it in a book, I would have said that they were stretching credulity to the breaking point. Which only goes to prove that nothing, after all, can be stranger than reality.

Once safely (and wetly) on the dock again, we had to go back and unload all the trunks. Nine of them. Big ones. The trucks had gone. I had to scout around and get a pushcart, help load it and then trudge it off to the customs house, the only place where the trunks would be watched and be safe.

Jewels Restored.

The Jewels went back to the dock again to get the jewel bag. It isn't quite fair to say that I went with misgivings, but I did—anything might have happened on a night like that. But as I walked on to the dock I saw the tender working her way through the mad sea and there was the sailor, as honest a fellow, surely, as could be found, with the jewel bag intact in his hand. I was so glad!

I had left the little cafe where, previously in the evening we had had coffee and warmth. It was now about 5 o'clock in the morning. The thing now was a hotel—but what a thing to find. They told us in the cafe that the Casino was the best hotel in town, but the rooms, they also said, were not very good.

We went then to the next place, the Hotel de France. Imagine us appearing there at 5:30 o'clock in the morning, bedraggled, soaked to the skin, not once but many times, weary almost to the death we had so narrowly escaped.

Good Publicity Yarn.

Natacha said: "What a publicity story this would have made." I smiled rather grimly and said: "The tale of another Shelley, at the end, at least!" And the hotel owner said: "No room now, but if you will wait half an hour there are some traveling salesmen who will be leaving and we will then be able to give you some kind of accommodation."

On any lesser occasion I would have quibbled about the aforesaid accommodation, but now any hole in the wall would have seemed refuge to us then. Life is all a matter of the comparative, anyway.

So we had another cup of coffee and waited some more. Our faces were assuming the set expression of stoical patience against all odds. We were sinking into the last lethargy—that of complete utter resignation. Resignation, I often think, should be the last resource of the suffering. It is a sort of pale and passionless heaven, where the ill of the body and soul are absorbed, soaked up. It is a form of Nirvana.

Reach Bed at Last.

At last and eventually, after what seemed to be a lifetime, and a long and strenuous one, compressed into one dark and dreadful and thoroughly nightmarish night, we reached this room.

One can't imagine Cherbourg on such a night—damp as can be—the hotel without a fire—damp—the dolorous and mouldy, soaking into the room as it had, the night through, soaked into our bones—no hot water. The most ordinary creature comforts were blantly disregarded.

I made Natacha wrap up in as many blankets as we could corral and curl up in them like a pup. I did the same myself and prayed faintly that we might not meet another and more lingering death, having just escaped a swift one.

I had left word downstairs that we were to be awakened at 8:30, as the boat left at 9.

Miss Ship Again.

But when I did awake this morning I knew instantly, by instinct, that 9, that 8:30, had long since come and gone, and the ship had gone with the hours. They had simply forgotten to call us, if, indeed, they had ever intended to. I got up and looked at my watch, which, like ourselves, was still miraculously alive and going and the watch said "11 o'clock."

I said to Natacha, who had awakened when I got up: "They have forgotten us and we have missed the boat again."

The resignation that had been ours a few hours before seemed to be still with us, for neither of us said a word, simply looked at each other with solemn and immovable countenances.

I rang and thought I would have a little hot water, shave, bathe and try to get into form again for my next move. But no. Ringing was of no avail. The maids were having their breakfasts.

I had to shave and bathe as best I could in cold water. I refrain from even thinking how poor Natacha managed to make her toilet.

While these pallid ablutions were going on, somebody, a shoemaker or someone, was singing the damndest song in the damndest voice, and he just about managed to break our resignation up into bits of rage and anger.

We are going to leave here in an hour. I have been writing this while Natacha has been contriving her bathings, and dressing, and in the meantime I have telephoned to the Castle hotel for a room for the day. The President Adams arrives at the dock at 11 o'clock tonight and we shall take passage on that boat, God willing.

Don't miss tomorrow's installment. The "Great Lover" reveals the momentous reason that prompted Mr. Williams to insist he board the Leviathan in Cherbourg harbor and in attempting which he and Natacha almost lost their lives. It will astound you! Don't miss tomorrow's paper.

VETERAN CHARGED WITH ALTERATIONS ON PENSION CHECK

Poor judgment led Oscar J. Wright, of Griffin, Friday into the toils of the government for which he fought during the Spanish-American war, according to evidence presented to United States Commissioner Ledbetter, who held Wright for federal court on charges of altering a United States pension check.

The story of Wright's attempt to get more than his pension check called for is a pathetic one, according to secret service operatives who made the arrest. Faced with creditors who wanted their money, Wright's little $20 check looked mighty small in comparison with the amount he owed, so he took the first step of erasing the word "twenty" and the numerals "20," the secret service alleges.

Wright's next move was to write "forty" and "40" in place of the erasures, and to present the check at a bank in Griffin for payment.

The bank viewed the check with suspicion and refused to cash it. The return he came frightened at this, altered the check again and reinserted $20 as the amount, placing the check in the hands of a creditor to be cashed, it is alleged.

When the creditor sent the check on to another bank it was sent on to the treasury department, the arrest of Wright following, it was stated. Wright furnished $500 bond Friday afternoon for his appearance in federal court.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE HELD NEXT AT HELENA

Reynolds, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—The services were conducted by Rev. T. A. Shuford at the opening of the third day's session of the annual conference of the American district, holding daily meetings in St. Philip's A. M. E. church, this city, with Bishop J. H. Flipper presiding.

On the adoption of minutes of previous day's session, read by Dr. U. S. Johnson and J. F. Hixon, secretaries, the disciplinary questions were continued.

The pastoral reports showed that there has been great increase in number of members added to the church over that of last year. Dr. T. J. Linton was elected president of the conference. A. C. E. League society; Professor C. H. Harold was appointed president of the state league work. Dr. C. A. Wingfield was appointed president of the Sunday school state work and also elected trustees of Wilburforce university in Ohio.

The conference branch of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society submitted an interesting report, which showed that a sum had been paid out to the mission preachers.

The annual conference was voted to Helena, Ala., for 1927. Rev. J. E. Brown presented the names of trustees of Morris Brown university. Rev. B. J. Ross gave the names of trustees of Payne college. Rev. S. Fields read a report on circuits and station. Rev. A. E. Clark read report on state of the church, and L. A. Mason on temperance.

The educational anniversary was held Friday night, when a number of speeches were made.

BOST SUCCUMBS TO PISTOL WOUNDS

Coroner Paul Donebo will assemble a jury this morning in the funeral chapel of J. Austin Dillon to investigate the slaying of B. P. Bost, of 445 South Pryor street, who was shot and killed Thursday by Frank P. Gillespie, son of City Detective Ben Gillespie and brother of Mrs. Clyde K. Ryfield. The inquest will be held at the chapel of J. Austin Dillon Co. at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Gillespie, in a signed statement, admitted that he shot Bost in the house of Mrs. Artie Collins, 20 Haynes street, but claims that he acted in self-defense, firing upon Bost when the latter attacked him with a knife. Mrs. Collins is held with Gillespie without bond under a blanket charge of suspicion.

Bost died shortly before 10 o'clock Friday morning. He regained consciousness before death and made a statement to W. C. Wynne, superintendent at the garage at which he was employed. He charged that jealousy prompted Gillespie, whom he said he knew as "Frank Kemp."

Dead Man's Statement.

According to Wynne, Bost said that he had gone to Mrs. Collins' home to buy a pint of whisky from Gillespie, and was sitting with her in the kitchen when Gillespie appeared. He said that Gillespie told him that they "would go for a little walk" and that when they reached the front of the house, he saw Gillespie reach for his hip pocket. He heard a revolver "click," the dying man said, which caused him to grapple with Gillespie, but not in time to prevent the stream of lead.

Gillespie did not make his statement until late Friday, refusing to comment on the slaying until he had retained counsel. He exhibited his coat, however, which had been slashed as if by a knife.

M'CLUNEY'S FIGHT FOR HOUSE SEAT TO BE AIRED HERE

Contest proceedings brought by Rev. J. F. McCluney, of Baldwin county, who was defeated on the face of returns in the recent election for a seat in the house of representatives, will be heard Monday according to Mrs. Bessie Anderson, secretary of the state democratic executive committee. After the recent election the Baldwin county democratic executive committee declared Marion Allen the nominee over Rev. McCluney by a majority of 29 votes. Rev. McCluney contested the election and carried the fight to the state committee which met in Macon the day before the state convention. The state committee ordered the county committee to purge the election list of illegal ballots. The county committee took such action and declared Allen the nominee by three votes. Rev. McCluney filed a second contest on the ground that some of his votes were thrown out which were legal and qualified votes. A subcommittee composed of G. E. Maddox, of Rome, chairman of the state committee, Judge A. H. Freeman, of Newnan, and Mrs. Anderson will hear testimony in the contest Monday.

M'CORD IS ADDED TO COMMITTEE TO AID SCHOOLS

H. Y. McCord, prominent Atlanta merchant and president of the McCord-Stewart company, Friday was named as the fifth member of the special advisory committee which will handle expenditures of the board of education for the remainder of this year and next year. Other members of the committee named several days ago are H. Warner Martin, of the Atlanta & Lowry National bank; W. T. Perkerson, of the Fourth National bank; W. W. Orr, of the George Muse Clothing company, and Harold Hirsch, prominent attorney. The committee will meet with the board at its next regular meeting and begin active supervision of administration of school finances. Appointment of this committee was made a condition precedent to the signing of a note for $500,000 which made possible continuation of schools for the remainder of this year by relieving a financial crisis.

$13,600 RECEIVED IN CIGARETTE TAX FROM BANKRUPT

Collection of $13,600 due the state in cigar and cigarette taxes by Stuart P. Murray company, bankrupt, was announced Friday by T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general. This money was due the state and Mr. Gress filed proof of the state's claim with the receiver recently and was paid this amount Friday. This settles all claims the state had against the company which is now being operated under bond. The money was turned into the treasury department by Mr. Gress.

HIKER IS INJURED WHEN RUN DOWN BY LOCAL AUTOIST

John P. Cumming, 23, of Junction City, Tenn., was treated at Grady hospital Friday morning for injuries received when struck down by an automobile driven by R. G. McNair, of 772 Marietta street, at Spring and Marietta streets, according to police. According to information given police Mr. McNair stopped his car, took the injured man to the hospital and then reported the accident. Mr. Cumming and a companion, Frank Stewart, of Miami, Fla., were on a walking tour from Wilmington, N. C., to Florida. No case was made. After a spirited chase of several blocks, Motorcycle Officers McLean and Hamilton captured a sedan on Whiteford avenue and arrested Leonard Calloway, negro driver, who gave his address as Deatur, on charges of being drunk on the streets, operating a car while under the influence of liquor and reckless driving.

The Chest Serves Needs, Not Creeds

CONSTRUCTIVE WELFARE knows no race, religion nor color—for suffering makes no distinctions when it takes its miserable toll. This fact is the basis of all work of your Community Chest.

Suffering exists and recognizes no boundary lines, no sects—and something must be done about it.

The job of the Community Chest is to do that something, and do it promptly effectively and above all, constructively. If we can prevent suffering, prevent disease, prevent crime, we have done the biggest job in the world. And the Community Chest—your Community Chest, remember—is doing exactly that.

There are three types of Welfare agencies within the Chest. The first group relieves suffering. The sick are healed, the hungry are fed, the erring are set back on the straight road. The second group rehabilitates. Work is found for unemployed. The families are helped to get on their own feet. The hopeless and despondent are given new cheer and set on their way again.

The third group guides the young—and the old, too—preventing poverty, disease, crime. Children, who might otherwise become gunmen and gangsters, are taught to be good citizens. Their idle hours are filled with constructive activities. They learn to work for the common good—and so develop character.

In time it is the hope that the third group, the Preventive Welfare group will largely eliminate the need for the other two. That will be a great day. Already tremendous strides have been made in that direction.

What Does It Mean to You, Personally?

Poverty, disease, crime are a tax on the citizenry. You pay your share, in taxes, in depreciated property values, in retarded development of your city, in unhappy surroundings and contacts for your children, in losses by theft, by epidemics.

The work of the Community Chest is to check and to prevent the conditions that breed this tremendous tax on you. And your contribution to the Chest is an efficient and an economical way of cutting down the size of this annual, invisible tax. Forget what you gave last year. Figure your giving this year on the basis of what the Chest means to you. You've had a prosperous year; give accordingly. It is an investment in prosperity—the best investment you can make today.

A Saving of 32% or More

Before there was a Community Chest it cost 40% and often as much as 60% to collect and administer the Welfare Fund of Atlanta.

34 separate drives, 34 separate organizations for collection of pledges, 34 separate organizations of Welfare Workers—each with its own complete overhead.

The Community Chest spends only 4 1/2% for collection, and 4% for administration.

Under the Community Chest, therefore, 91 1/2% of your money goes to the poor, the needy, instead of the 60, 50 and often 40% that went in former days.

SKIN NOW SOFT AND SMOOTH AS A BABY'S

After three years' suffering from eczema

Los Angeles, California, April 14: "For over three years my little daughter suffered with eczema on her arms, face, neck and hands. It seemed to me that I tried everything, but the trouble grew worse all the time. The itching was intense and made sleep almost impossible. One day a friend advised me to use Resinol so I bought a jar of ointment and a cake of soap, but I didn't believe it would do any good. You can imagine my surprise and joy when the itching stopped and healing began immediately. Now, after using two jars of ointment and a cake of soap my little girl's skin is as white and smooth as the day she was born." (Signed) J. H. Norris, 1579 Rockwood St.

Arkansas Tech Beats Oglethorpe Petrels In Mud Tilt

Birds Show Strong Defense; Conley Stars With Runs

Coach Robertson Uses Second String Men For Three Quarters—Varsity Unable to Avert Defeat in Final Quarter—Strength Saved For Furman.

USSELLVILLE, Ark., October 22.—Arkansas Tech defeated Oglethorpe here this afternoon, 27 to 0, in a game played on a field of mud. A heavy rain set in during the early part of the game and never slackened. Coach Robertson, of the Petrels, started his second eleven and played them throughout most of the game. In the last quarter Captain Campbell, Bell and company were inserted into the game but did little more than the second stringers.

On two occasions the Oglethorpe line held the Arkansas boys for downs within their own ten-yard line. At one time Arkansas had the ball on the Petrels' three-yard line and first down, but were unable to put it over.

This same stubborn defense was put up by the Petrels all during the game and Arkansas scored by taking advantage of the breaks. They proved to be much better mud-horses than the Petrels and this accounts for their victory. Conley, quarterback for the Arkansas boys, seems to run better in the mud than at any other time.

He scored two of his team's touchdowns, one in the second and one in the third quarter.

On off-tackle plays and on occasional end runs the wonder-boys carried the ball deep into Oglethorpe territory at the beginning of the second quarter they made another first-down and then Nemecek bucked seven yards through the line for a touchdown. Again in the same period Conley scored this time on a 20-yard run. The third quarter Taliaferro fumbled after being tackled. Clement, Oglethorpe's star, picked up the ball and ran for a touchdown. Oglethorpe kicked off and after an exchange of punts Conley went around right end for 25 yards and the last touchdown of the game.

For Oglethorpe the work of Garfield, White, Shepherd, and Taliaferro stood out in the backfield while MacLaughlin, Hancock and Andrews stood out in the line. Captain Clement, a 200-pound guard, was the outstanding star of the line for Arkansas Tech while Conley, Nemecek, and Bushmiller shone in the backfield.

Lineup and Summary.

Geneva, 'Gators May Play in Jax

Revere Falls, Pa., October 22.—(AP) "Bo" McMillin's Geneva college football team, which gained fame this season by defeating Harvard and giving Cornell a hard battle, has been invited to play the University of Florida at Jacksonville on New Year's Eve. No decision has been made as to reception or rejection of the offer, according to the University's graduate manager, E. C. Ridgecombe, who made public the Florida post-season proposal.

LOOP OFFICIALS TO BE QUERIED.

Jacksonville, Fla., October 22.—(AP) The University of Florida may not be able to play the Geneva college football eleven here on New Year's day as has been proposed by Fred Valz, city commissioner in charge of public safety. A Southern conference rule forbids its members to engage in post-season contests and it would be necessary to obtain permission of the governing body before the game could be played.

An invitation has already been extended to Geneva which has won fame this season by defeating Harvard and playing a close game with Cornell, but it was indicated today that another opponent may be invited to meet McMillin's squad here. However, last season, the University of Alabama obtained special permission of the conference to play against the University of Washington in the Tournament of Roses, and it was hoped by those promoting the Florida-Geneva tilt that the contest could be arranged.

Soccer Players To Have Practice

The second practice session of local soccer players will be held at Piedmont this afternoon at 2:30, according to announcement late Friday. Every local soccer player is requested to attend the practice.

Interest in the game is running high this year and a large number of players are expected to take part in the two-year-old game. This is the second season that the game has been played in Atlanta and already many players have taken up the game. While all other games this time of year are over about Thanksgiving, soccer is played up until April.

Several local colleges and schools are interested in the sport and will probably put teams on the field. The 22nd infantry already has a team and is very anxious to get games with other teams around Atlanta.

If players are unable to attend the practice on Saturdays, arrangements can be made for practice at the fort on Sundays. Any information desired can be secured from E. C. Klein, Walnut 7278 or Walnut 4733.

KENTUCKY U. AND FLORIDA AWAIT BELL

Jacksonville, Fla., October 22.—(AP) Gridiron stalwarts of the Universities of Kentucky and Florida were encamped here tonight on the eve of their conflict tomorrow in the Fair field stadium here. Both squads, reported to be in fine fettle for the game, were confident of their showing which will be made before a monster crowd of fans.

Twenty-five strong, the players from the "dark and bloody ground," arrived shortly after noon today, had a brief practice session on the stadium field and were escorted to the benches for a program of sight-seeing late in the afternoon. The "Gators" invaded town tonight, bringing numbers of the student body on their train. Both elevens will work out early tomorrow and with a short "skull session" will be rested for the game.

It will be Florida's second conference tilt of the season. For that reason the "Gators" are especially anxious to break the losing streak that has cost them their last three games. Los Angeles on the first road trip of the season, the Floridians fired no better when they entertained the University of Mississippi on home grounds the following week-end. Last Saturday, further humiliation was suffered in Macon, Ga., at the hands of Mercer.

As for Kentucky, she comes from a 12 to 14 battle last Saturday with Washington and Lee and is favored over the "Gators" who have not displayed the driving force the Wildcats son. However, "Gator" fans recall that none of the team's defeat have been by the margin of more than one touchdown and are confident that a reshaped Florida squad will make a better showing than has generally been expected.

Kentucky Arrives For Florida Game

Jacksonville, Fla., October 22.—(AP) The University of Kentucky football squad arrived at noon for its contest here tomorrow with the University of Florida. The Kentucky club, of Jacksonville has organized a downtown parade or tomorrow in honor of the visiting eleven. The Florida team will reach here tonight.

Contos Lowers Prices For Wrestling Show

In order to stimulate interest in wrestling among the younger generation, John Contos, promoter of the next Wednesday's card in the auditorium, stated before leaving here Friday for Lakemont for a few days' rest, that he had knocked the price down to 50 cents for children, for this one show at least, and he hopes to see the kiddies there in large round numbers.

"They'll witness a show, too," he said, "one of the fiercest battles in Atlanta's history when Dick Daviscount squares off with Jim Brown in the main bout. For that matter, there'll be nothing wrong with the two preliminaries—Paxos vs. McLeon and Edwin vs. Crawley."

John thinks highly of his self-arranged performance and presents a clipping from a Nashville paper of recent date, describing the grudge boxing bout between Daviscount and Brown in the Volunteer hall park to substantiate his assertion that this will be a struggle for blood.

The Boxing Story.

The story, written by Lewis Little, says:

"There were three outstanding reasons why Dick Daviscount won from Jim Brown last night by a knock-out in the fifth round. The most impressive was because he was the smartest ringman of the two. The others were because he could hit harder and exhibited more stamina."

"It was the kind of fight that the fans like to see. It was crowded with action and plenty of thrills. There was not a round that was slow. During the entire fracas, the spectators were kept in a frenzy as the men maneuvered one another to the floor."

"There were eleven knockdowns during the battle. Daviscount, although the winner, listened to the count of the referee while on the floor. He was knocked down exactly half a dozen times, taking the count of eight three times."

"Browning had Daviscount nearly out in the first and second rounds. To continue feud. While that was not the end of the story, it describes vividly how doggedly they fought, and the big scramble in the auditorium Wednesday night will be a continuation of the feud that developed some months ago between the two giants."

Neither Dick nor Jim is a boxer by trade, but both were eager for a trial with the gloves and keen for the chance to hammer the other into a state of coma. That they succeeded admirably is shown by the above clipping.

Leo Diegel Leads Middle Atlantic

Baltimore, October 22.—(AP)—Leo Diegel, of the Mountain View Farms club, New York, led the field with a card of 114 for 36 holes at the close of the first day's play in the Middle Atlantic open golf championship tournament. Bobby Cruikshank, expected to be among the leaders, found the Rolling Roads club course too much for him, and after shooting an 82 for his morning round he withdrew.

Three strokes behind Diegel was George Voigt, District of Columbia amateur champion. John Golden of New Jersey and Eddie Towns, of the Indiana Springs Golf club were tied with 148.

Glenn Spencer, pro of the Green Spring Valley Hunt club, Baltimore, followed with 149, while B. Warren Corkran, Baltimore Country club amateur, Pat Doyle, of New York, and Ralph Beach, of the Burning Tree Country club, Washington, turned in 150 apiece.

Diegel played consistently throughout, getting a 36 for each round. Par for the course is 35.

MRS. MORROW WINS WOMEN'S GOLF TITLE.

Baltimore, October 22.—(AP)—Mrs. E. Boyd Morrow, of the Elkridge Hunt club, Maryland, today captured the Middle Atlantic Women's golf title by defeating Mrs. J. M. Haynes, of the Columbia Country club, 2 and 1, in the final round.

Mrs. W. Barham, Jr., of Norfolk, won from Mrs. Elizabeth Heusler, Baltimore, 2 up, in the consolation play off.

MONTE MUNN BEATS NEGRO; DEKUH LOSES

New York, October 22.—(United News)—Eight knockdowns in less than two rounds was the record of Jimmy Maloney at Madison Square Garden tonight when he won over Arthur De Kuh, young Italian. Five of the knockdowns were in the first round, and the referee stopped the fight early in the second after Maloney had floored De Kuh three more times.

Monte Munn was given a decision over Carl Carter when the referee stopped the fight in the seventh round because Carter refused to fight. In the first bout of the night, Bob Lawson, Alabama negro, lost a 10-round decision to Yale Okum, of New York.

Jack De Mave, of Hoboken, and Sandy Seifort, of Pittsburgh, fought a 10-round draw.

Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, who were at the ringside, were presented with belts. Dempsey's ovation was greater than that of his conqueror. Tunney got the boos. On his former appearance in the garden, when he was champion, Dempsey was booed unmercifully.

West Virginia Grid Team a Family Affair

Lanier Hi Completes Work For T.H.S. Game

Montgomery, Ala., October 22.—(Special.)—A long scrimmage Thursday against the Tech High style of play used by the scrubs ended the Lanier High "Poets" preparation for the hardest game of the year at Cramton bowl Saturday.

Coach Clayton Hudson announced the Blue and White machine as ready and allowed the team a lay-off Friday by taking them to the Cloverdale High-Wetumpka Aggies' game.

Practice Polo Game at Fort

A practice polo game is scheduled to be played at Fort McPherson next Sunday afternoon as a preliminary to the big event to be played on November 7 during the mammoth horse show.

The Governor's Horse Guard polo team will play the Twenty-second Infantry team in the first game of the season. The game will be played on the polo field at the fort, and although it is a preliminary event, it will be well worth attending. No admission will be charged.

Due to the fact that the polo ponies have not yet been trained to top polo form, the periods will be short. This is the first game of the season and a large crowd is expected out for the game.

The Lanier coaches realize that one of the best prep teams in the south will be facing Lanier Saturday, and every effort has been made to have the locals on edge to withstand the attack.

Colonels Arrive For Tenn. Battle

Knoxville, Tenn., October 22.—(AP) Praying Colonels of Centre college, rich in memories of a once mighty team, tonight lies encamped on the outskirts of Knoxville, ready to come down tomorrow for the annual football struggle with the Tennessee Volunteers.

Centre took a brisk workout yesterday afternoon and Coach Ostie pronounced all his men in the pink of condition. Although facing slight odds, the Colonel mentor states that the morale of his team is at the peak and that tomorrow will find them battling to the last straw.

An even greater feeling of confidence prevails in the Vol encampment. Coach Neyland is ready to set forth for his fifth victory this year and incidentally prepares to invade Starkville for the mighty Mississippi Aggies on next Saturday.

Every member of the Orange and White squad is in good condition and they all are thirsting for blood—Colonial gore. It is expected that the team that goes forth to battle Centre tomorrow would hardly be recognized for the one that barely eked out a 6 to 0 win from Maryville last Saturday.

Two Outstanding Conference Games Slated Today

Tide, Sewanee, Vandy And Georgia Battle For Gridiron Honors

Nine Southern Conference Clashes Are Scheduled For Various Gridirons of the South—Tech Meets Washington and Lee in Another Feature Battle. Tornado Minus Several Stars.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

EIGHTEEN Southern conference football teams today will clash with each other, one southern team invades the midwest for an inter-sectional game, one member plays a non-conference member and two squads met Thursday in a conference game. Two of the games are the outstanding battles of the conference.

Alabama and Sewanee will play in Birmingham in one of the feature games of the season. Sewanee has worked hard all week on breaking up forward passes and other "Bama" plays. Alabama goes into the game with a complete first-string line-up with the exception of Holmes, center, who is out with a bad cold.

One of the close games of the day is expected at Vanderbilt where the Commodores meet the Georgia Bulldogs in their annual grid classic. Georgia Tech, with a crippled team, will play host to Washington and Lee. The Generals arrived in Atlanta yesterday fresh from victory over Kentucky and a tie game with Princeton, and the Golden Tornado is expected a hard battle.

JACKET FROSH MEET GEORGIA PUPSTODAY

BY MARUS BRYANT.

Athens, Ga., October 22.—Outstanding on the 1926 schedule for the Georgia freshmen will be the game here Saturday against the first-year team of Georgia Tech. This will be the first meeting of the teams on the gridiron since the renewal of athletic relations, and much interest is being manifested.

Coch Coachman's charges have enjoyed two victories this season, winning easily over the Fort McPherson soldiers, 23 to 0, and defeating the Mercer Rats last Friday at Louisville, 7 to 0.

The junior Bulldogs boast an array of line and backfield talent to compare favorably with the former teams at Georgia, and although somewhat crippled, will wage a hard battle against Kid Clay's team.

Several Hurt. Rothstein, Cook, Gunnells, Barron, and Riddle received minor hurts in the game with Mercer last week, which are expected to improve to the extent that they may be used Saturday. Butler and Haley have been absent all season due to injuries, while Voigt sustained a sprained ankle this week.

The line-up to be used by Captain Backman is not known. Thompson, McDonald and Harris are a trio of pivot men and either is likely to oppose the junior Jackets. Guard material is presented in a large quantity, with Payne, Rowsey, Etheridge, Hill, Herndon available.

Nixon, Frisky and Stelling are the leading tackles in the Athenian frosh camp, with Stelling used at guard also. For the flank positions, Davidson, Fisher, Palmer, Allen and Mobley lead the field.

Riddle, Rothstein, Cook, Fisher, Zant, Parris and Collins boost the backfield hopes and all have showed up nicely in previous games this season.

V. M. I. To Battle N. C. on Saturday

Lexington, Va., October 21.—(AP)—Remaining games on V. M. I.'s football schedule will be played on the enemy's gridirons. The Cadets meet five more opponents, the first being with North Carolina State, at Mayo Island park, Richmond, on Saturday.

Coaches Clarkson and Rafferty and about 20 players will make the trip to the capital. The squad will leave Lexington about 1 o'clock tomorrow and expect to take a light workout en route to Richmond, where they will arrive at 8 o'clock.

Most of the members of the flying squadron came out of the game last Saturday with Virginia with only the usual muscle soreness. Tackles Kulin and Moorman and Halfback Nabers, who played through the game, were bruised considerably, but should be in good condition to start against the Wolfpack Saturday. Slick Harner and Beck Chapman, two reserve backs, are still on the hospital list.

The local are expecting a hard game, Tech having played only one game this year, triumphing over Oglethorpe, 7 to 0. With the Georgia Bulldogs at Nashville, a large crowd is expected for the game.

Colvin Leads Purple Warriors To Victory At Spiller's Field

Many Fumbles on Both Sides Are Features of Game—Two Touchdowns Scored by Victor in Final Quarter—Colvin Races 75 Yards For Six Points.

BY BEN COTHARAN.

A NEW STAR rose in the prep firmament Friday afternoon when Boys' High scored a 19-to-0 victory over the G. M. A. Cadets at Spiller's.

The new star is Sam Colvin, and he plays quarterback for the Purple. Last year he played at end, and was shifted to the backfield on offensive play this year. Friday afternoon his running was of the best that has been seen in prep circles this year.

Colvin was running the ends, slashing off-tackle and occasionally ramming the line, and on every play he made a good gain. Several of his end runs were for good long distances. His longest run was a 75-yard dash through the entire G. M. A. team for a touchdown in the closing minutes of the game.

Colvin handled his team well, and played a good defensive game, being shifted to end when Boys' High was on offense. He made several nice tackles, and his play was the most outstanding of the two teams.

The game was full of fumbles, with G. M. A. making the major portion, and most of the Cadet miscues came at exactly the wrong time. Sorrells, the red-headed G. M. A. fullback, and a captain, who caused so much trouble last year, was unable to keep his hands on the ball most of the time, and his plunging failed to come up to standard.

Campbell Used. Campbell, regular G. M. A. fullback, who has an injured collarbone, was sent in the game during the third quarter, and took the ball down the field on successive line bucks, making four and five yards at a clip. When within the Purple's five-yard line he fumbled and Boys' High recovered.

On two occasions the Red line of the Cadets of the G. M. A. team tightened up and kept Boys' High from scoring. In the first quarter, Boys' High had the ball on G. M. A.'s 10-yard line and first down. Three bucks failed to carry it over, and on the fourth down Brantfield broke through and blocked Duke Turner's attempt at a field goal. Again, just before the end of the half, G. M. A. aided by the stellar bucking up of Booth, held Boys' High on their own three-yard line.

The first half of the game was a replica of past Boys' High-G. M. A. games—both teams battling up and down the field with Boys' High pushing over a counter in the second quarter. An exchange of punts had given Boys' High the ball well in G. M. A. territory. Long runs by Colvin and terrific line bucks by Winn, carried the ball over. Winn making the touchdown. Turner failed to kick goal.

Block Scored On. A blocked punt in the fourth quarter gave Boys' High another score. The Purple line rushed it through and blocked Mott's attempted punt, a Boys' High recovering on G. M. A.'s 17-yard line. Three successive bucks by Winn carried the ball over. Fincher kicked goal.

Boys' High made its final touchdown on an onside kick. Boys' High punter and Wilson signaled for a catch. He was touched, and the Cadets decided to try an onside kick. Boys' High lined up to receive. Colvin caught the ball, and received it from the interference of Sam Fincher and Duke Turner past midfield he outdistanced them and also the Cadet team and dashed across the goal for another touchdown. Fincher failed to kick goal.

McCallister, Boys' High sub lineman, played a good game on defense, and caused the breaking up of many G. M. A. plays.

The numerous fumbles by both teams, caused by the nervousness of both, slowed up the game considerably, and turned what should have been one of the best exhibitions of prep football this season into a poor show.

A. backfield flash, making a first down after getting through the line and starting for a touchdown. He was caught by the foot by a Boys' High man as he was getting away. The lower picture shows Breezy Winn, B. H. S. backfield star, breaking through the G. M. A. line for a touchdown. He is seen running with his head down ready to ward off the would-be tacklers.

McCallister, Boys' High sub lineman, played a good game on defense, and caused the breaking up of many G. M. A. plays.

The numerous fumbles by both teams, caused by the nervousness of both, slowed up the game considerably, and turned what should have been one of the best exhibitions of prep football this season into a poor show.

FOUR FEATURE GRID BATTLES IN EAST TODAY

New York, October 22.—(AP)—Harvard and Dartmouth, Yale and Brown command most attention among tomorrow's eastern gridiron clashes.

The feeling of optimism at Harvard, whose team has been improving after a poor start, has been dampened somewhat by the loss of Leo Daley, veteran lineman, Captain Horton of Dartmouth also will be out of tomorrow's game at the Harvard stadium.

Brown will give Yale, conqueror of Dartmouth, another test for its right to the mythical eastern title.

Brown will be handicapped by the absence of its regular tackle Hodges and Guernsey, called home by illness of relatives.

Lehigh has lost four straight and Princeton expects no trouble. Colgate has a lot of fancy forward passes to spring on Navy.

Pennsylvania, challenger to Yale's supremacy in the east, is planning to send a full quota of regulars against Williams to bring the hidden ball attack to perfection for Illinois next week.

Nothing serious is foreseen at West Point in the Boston unit rivalry advance on Army. The Army regulars will be saved to play Yale next week.

Columbia will take it easy with Duke in order to be set for Cornell next week. Cornell will be idle tomorrow.

A crippled Syracuse team will meet Pennsylvania State, Carr, leading scorer of the east, Cook and Goldman, first string backs, are out with serious injuries.

Pittsburgh has worked hard for Carnegie Tech. Holy Cross expects trouble with Western Maryland.

squad ran up a 12 to 0 score over Canton here today before a large crowd.

The game was well played and hard fought throughout, with Marietta having the upperhand at all times. Read and Orr starred for Marietta, both men going over for touchdowns. The Marietta line failed to weaken before the onslaught of the Canton team, and broke through many times, to hold Canton for no gain, and occasionally throwing the visiting backs for losses.

MARIETTA ELEVEN BEATS DARTINGTON. Rome, Ga., October 22.—(Special.) Marietta college, Atlanta, defeated Dartington school of Rome, here today in a bitterly contested game, the final score being 14-7.

Marietta flashed a powerful offense on the home team, and led by the line plunging of Brooks, at fullback, smashed its way to victory. Passes from Martin to Lanford, stellar Marietta end, gained much ground for the visitors.

In the line, the play of Captain Frank McSherry at end was outstanding for Marietta. Martin and Elbert played jump games in the backfield for the Atlanta eleven.

Frank Inman, Atlanta boy, played a good game at tackle for Dartington. Dartington was unable to pierce the Marietta line for any appreciable gain, and gained little yardage at ends.

Tornado and Generals Clash on Grant Field Today

Four Tech Regulars On Casualty Roll; Whitlock Also Hurt

Lillard, Pund, McRae and Randolph Will Perform in Yellow Jerseys—Strong Backfield Features Invaders' Lineup—Game Called at 2 O'Clock.

BY CARTER BARRON.

WHEN the Golden Tornado blows on Grant field this afternoon to face the Blue and White Generals of Washington and Lee, four slightly unfamiliar faces will be seen. The game will start at 2 o'clock.

Coach Alexander will send his charges against the Blue and White eleven with four second varsity men wearing uniforms, but these men are capable of performing like veterans.

Lillard, Pund, McRae and Randolph will be the four men to start in the place of the four first-string men. Lillard will fill the vacancy left by Martin, who is out with injuries. Lillard has been drilled for the place and is ready to take up his task at left guard.

Pund will fill the shoes of Captain Pool, who is out of the lineup with an injured shoulder. Pund has seen service in that place in almost every one of Tech's games, and he will feel at home there. Pund is expected to hold down the pivot job capably.

Brewer's vacant place will be filled by McRae, a speedy backfield man, who knows quite a lot about playing in the quarterback position. McRae is classed as one of the Jackets' best quarterbacks.

Randolph at Full. Bob Randolph will take over the position of fullback in the place of Sam Murray.

The absence of these four regular men will be felt when the Blue and White squad starts this afternoon, although the Gold and White team has four good men in the place of the injured men.

Coach Alexander has been drilling his men all week for the game, giving special attention to the four substitutes who will be thrown against the Generals.

The Tornado went through a light workout Friday afternoon, putting the finishing touches on for the big clash with the Blue and White outfit.

The Generals took possession of the field until about 4:30 o'clock and put in some real work. The Generals have a strong team this season along with a clever team, and the Jackets are in for a hard time this afternoon. The reserve strength of the line and the White squad is another big thing, and the Jackets will have to hustle about to keep ahead of the Generals. The Generals, however, only brought 13 halfbacks with them for the occasion, but their strength is about the same after all.

A long signal drill was on the books for the Yellow Jackets along with a lot of kicking and running back-kicks. The work lasted until dark, with a spin around the track as the climax. All of the men are in shape and everything is expected to come off in fine fashion this afternoon when the two teams clash.

Whitlock Out. The Generals face the Jackets without the prospect of having "Bum" Whitlock, phenomenal halfback who dashed 60 yards to a touchdown against Kentucky last week, at his disposal.

Young Wallace Fights K. O. Moore Tuesday

K. O. Moore, of Fort McPherson, will meet Young Wallace in the 10-round semi-final of the boxing card at the city auditorium next Tuesday night, according to announcement Friday by Matchmaker Albert Gossett.

Young Wallace found favor with Atlanta fans in his last appearance here which was in a preliminary to the Stribling-Burns fight. Another appearance of the Tampan has been sought consistently by Atlanta fans and Matchmaker Gossett believes that the fight between him and Moore will be one of the best semi-finals offered here in some time.

In the final, Frankie Murphy will meet Harry Fay. Fay once fought a draw with Harry Greb, and since the death of Greb Friday it has come to snip. He made a good show with light that he once beat Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight champion.

The Greb-Dempsey battle, which took place while Jack was training for his championship bout with Billy Conn, was never made known to any extent, and lasted only two rounds, but during those rounds Greb pummeled and beat the champion in fine style. It was, of course, in the settlement of a grudge of some privacy.

With an opponent of this calibre Murphy must go far to protect his name.

A. T. O. WINS FRAI HONORS IN TECH RACE

BY JULIEN SAKS.

Charles Woolfolk, K. A. freshman from Columbus, Ga., nosed out Edward Burns, a Pi K. A., from Charleston, S. C., in one of the most thrilling finishes seen at Grant field in a long time, in the interfraternity cross-country run held at Tech Friday afternoon.

Neck and neck these two runners approached the finish line and fell exhausted across it. Woolfolk beating out Burns by a slight margin in the excellent time of 14 minutes 13.2 seconds. Those finished third and fourth, McRae, Emory Smith, Walter, Rogers, Spivey, Ligon, Sloan, Lane, Hutchinson, Reynolds, Cliecher, Lemmon, Taylor, Rush, Mack, Stark, Dietrich, Brown and Curtis finished in the order named and each received a prize.

A. T. O. Wins Plaques.

The A. T. O. fraternity won the team prize with a very good score, placing lower third, Walsen, seventh, Lane, twelfth, Reynolds, fourteenth, and Stone, forty-first, with a total of 177 points. The Sigma Chi fraternity came second with 117 points and the Sigma Kappa, third, with 131. Each member of the winning team was presented with a prize, consisting of a two-pound box of candy, and the A. T. O. chapter will be presented with a plaque to be kept for one year as a reward for their proficiency at cross-country running.

Charles Woolfolk, the individual winner, was presented with a handsome cup, and Edward Burns, the runner-up, was awarded a pair of track shoes. All men who finished in the first 25 were awarded prizes.

200 Entries.

Over 200 thirty-four runners lined up waiting for the starter's gun, each anxious to carry the colors of his fraternity to victory. And of these 200 who started 130 went the entire course and finished, an unusual thing because usually a greater number fall by the wayside and drop out of the race, as the course is a hard, hilly one 2.7 miles in length and requires a lot of stamina and strength to finish it.

The interfraternity cross-country run is sponsored by the Tech chapter of the Society of Spiked Shoes, and will be held each fall. The winning fraternity is awarded a plaque to be kept until the interfraternity cross-country the following year, at which time it will be awarded that year's winner to be kept one year.

Chick Burns, despite the fact that the decision in this battle went to Burns, is eager for another Atlanta assault.

Tickets to the scrap have been placed on sale at Cless' and popular prices prevail. Another feature of the race is that ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by an escort.

Wallace proved himself a first class boxer in his last appearance here. His shifty style and large repertoire of ring tricks found instant favor with the fans. As a ring general he proved himself a good drawing card, and will welcome his return to a local ring.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Yes, It's Tech Again.

Unfortunately another Saturday has rolled around and the three football fans that read this column are now looking for the prediction on the Washington and Lee-Georgia Tech game this afternoon so that they will know how NOT to bet.

Well—here it is. We are going to let the same bee sting us twice and predict a victory for Tech. We believe this week again that it is anybody's football game today and we also believe that Tech should be able to be that anybody.

W. and L. may be able to win by the aerial route, but Tech in practice has done better in breaking up passes this week than ever before and we are satisfied that the Generals will find a different line than Alabama found last week.

With Carter Barron back in the game and in good shape the driving power of the Jackets will be greatly augmented. Bob Randolph may or may not be able to fill the shoes of Sam Murray at fullback—today's game will tell—but one thing is certain, Tech could not place a greater piece of FIGHTING humanity in the fullback position than this same Bob Randolph.

In practice the Tornado has exhibited an amount of drive heretofore unseen on Grant field and they have perfected a few most important plays during the past few days. It would not surprise us much to see Tech throw and complete more passes than usual today.

The line should be in fine shape. Firpo Martin will not be able to play, but Lillard, the curly-haired Adonis with the profile of a Roman statue, has been filling the shoes of the battling Firpo very creditably in scrimmages. Captain Pool will probably not be allowed to play, but Pund has also been doing well at center, so the loss of Captain Pool should not be appreciably felt.

Even in the Alabama fiasco the Tech defense was not without its glory, and with the staleness gone—as it should be after the rest—the Tornado should be able to stem the tide of shifty backs that the Generals will throw into the fray.

Parham, whose nose was misplaced in the Alabama fray, is back in the game wearing a fearful looking mask and his punting will be an asset for Tech. Parham has also been showing a steady gain in running the ball this year and in scrimmage has been getting away consistently.

Now that we have convinced ourselves—and probably no one else—that Tech has a good chance to win from Washington and Lee today, we will close this chapter and it will be concluded at Tech flats this afternoon. Whether the Tech flats installment will prove this to be an anti-climax is yet to be decided.

Wrestling Hoarse Business.

This afternoon we received a telephone call from the estimable Mr. Contos, who directs the destinies of the ear scrubbers at city auditorium next Wednesday night, and after asking for several repetitions we discovered that Mr. Contos was telling us he was about to accompany his physician to Lakemont for the week-end in an endeavor to cure a throat ailment.

We tried to get our Hellenic friend to admit that he had become hoarse from coughing gate receipts, but he refused to commit himself, and maintained that he was going to the mountains with Dr. W. A. Arnold, his physician, in an effort to place himself on speaking terms with the world again. We, for one, hope that Friend Contos will be able to cure the ailment, because he is hard enough to understand when he is in possession of all his articulatory faculties. John declares that he will be back in time to greet the maulers when they arrive early next week for the Wednesday show.

Colvin Has Bright Future.

There is one lad in the ranks of the high schools of Atlanta who will bear watching on the gridiron unless he suffers some serious indisposition. In a game filled with sloppy football in the form of fumbles and other misplays, Sam Colvin, of Boys' High, was the cynosure of all eyes at Spiller's field the day when the Purple Hurricane trounced G. M. A. by a score of 19 to 0.

Colvin plays at end on the defense and in the backfield on offense. He hits the line with remarkable strength for a man who weighs about 150 pounds and he is as shifty an open field runner as has been seen in high school circles for many a day.

On one occasion Friday he received an on-side kick on his 25-yard line and raced through the entire G. M. A. team for a touchdown. On nearly every play he made material gains and played a remarkably good defensive game.

Colvin was not the only promising piece of material seen Friday. G. M. A. sported an injured fullback by the name of Campbell, who, despite his injuries and with only mediocre interference, crashed the Purple wall time after time for substantial gains. Both of these lads will be heard from in college circles before many years.

Individual Stars Missing in East

New York, October 22.—Although the 1926 football season is not far advanced, those who deplored the tendency to emphasize individual performances instead of team play already are congratulating themselves upon the apparent fact that there is no "Red Grange" in college football this year.

No one star player stands out so that his every move is recorded—as was the case with the youngster from Wheaton.

The east has not as yet developed an individual of the prominence of "Swede" Oberlander, who ran wild in a green Dartmouth jersey last fall.

The reporting of college football games thus far this year seems to have followed, probably unconsciously, the wishes of those who would have emphasis placed upon the performance of a team as a whole rather than upon the play of one outstanding star.

"It's a good thing, if it keeps up," said Bill Roper, Princeton coach. "Last year, from some accounts, you would have thought Jake Stangle was the only player on our team."

RACE IN WEST WILL BE CUT BY BATTLES

Chicago, October 22.—(AP)—The field in the western conference football race will be further narrowed tomorrow when Robert Zuppke, at the head of the undefeated Illinois athletes, knocks on the stadium gate at Ann Arbor, demanding admittance to challenge the prowess of the Wolverines toward the second consecutive big championship. Ohio State, another strong contender will take on the Iowa Hawkeyes at Columbus. The Hawks seem to be out of it, as a result of their defeat at the hands of the Illinois last Saturday, but they lost that game by a margin just narrow enough to make them want to fight.

Another choice morsel for the football enthusiasts is the game at Evanston, where the Wildcats of Northwestern meet the Light Brigade of Notre Dame. Then, too, Stagg has been fearing Purdue all week, and the game at Stagg field between the Maroons and Boilemakers will settle the question as to whether the four was justified. Indiana clashes with Wisconsin at Madison in an interesting game, and Minnesota meets Washburn at St. Paul.

The game between Illinois and Michigan will find the two teams ready for the test. Illinois has been drilling all week endeavoring to correct some of the imperfections of play that cropped up in the Iowa game last Saturday, especially the tackling.

The standing of the teams with the scoring so far, the point totals including both Big Ten and non-conference games follows:

Team	W.	L.	T.	TP.	OP.
Michigan	1	0	0	117	6
Illinois	1	0	0	78	13
Northwestern	1	0	0	87	3
Wisconsin	1	0	0	51	0
Purdue	0	1	34	31	1
Minnesota	0	1	0	45	33
Indiana	0	1	0	45	33
Iowa	0	1	0	70	20
Ohio	0	0	1	119	21
Chicago	0	0	0	33	33

Seats Sold Out For Big Battles

Chicago, October 22.—(AP)—The sold-out sign hangs over the gates of two Big Ten football fields for tomorrow's battle, and four more amphitheaters will be comfortably filled with the biggest crowds of the 1926 season.

Sealers were at large today with tickets to the Notre Dame-Northwestern contest, and the market was brisk, with the certificates of admission bringing up to $40 a pair. The partially finished stadium holds 40,000, and all the tickets were sold many days ago.

At Ferry field, where Michigan and Illinois meet, the 48,000 tickets available are all gone, and hundreds have been turned away.

The full house at Northwestern drew the Chicago fans today to the Purdue-Chicago game, where 35,000 will watch Indiana and Wisconsin at Madison, and 50,000 will see Iowa battle Ohio State, although that crowd will not fill the great stadium at Columbus. Even the Minnesota contest with Washburn has drawn 25,000.

Figures on advance sales indicate attendance of 250,000 at the six games, one of the largest aggregate gate receipts in Big Ten history.

Operation Is Fatal To Former Champion Of Middleweights

Miss Naomi Braden, His Fiancee, at Bedside When Fighter Takes Final Count—Death Is Result of Bone Fracture Received in Auto Mishap.

BY FRANK GETTY.

New York, October 22.—One of boxing's most colorful ex-champions, Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh, who fought and defeated the best fighters of the past 10 years, while defying all rules of training and good conduct, died Friday following an operation in an Atlantic City sanitarium.

Greb, reckless, irresponsible, lion-hearted, will be missed by boxing fans even though his star had set a few months before his death.

In his prime, the Pittsburgh windmill whipped Gene Tunney, the present world's heavyweight champion; Jack Dempsey, whom he outfought in a private quarrel aboard the good ship "Granite State"; Tommy Gibbons, cleverest of heavyweights; Johnny Wilson, from whom he won the middleweight title in 1923; Mickey Walker, and a host of other champions.

During his 13 years in the ring, Greb fought 400 fights. He was a marvel of boxing in that he never trained seriously for any of these contests, and burned the candle at both ends during the brief periods between bouts.

Wine, women and fast automobiles appealed most to Harry Greb, and brought about his death at the age of 32. It was following one of the many automobile accidents in which he had been a victim that the boxer, whose real name was Harry Berg, was taken to a sanitarium for an operation to remove a broken bone from his skull.

From that operation Greb never recovered. It was performed Thursday night, and he died without regaining consciousness Friday afternoon.

Licked Tunney. Gene Tunney was licked by Greb in Madison Square Garden and had to hand over the American light-heavyweight title in 1922. Others who were beaten by Harry included Tommy Gibbons, Jack Renault, Jimmy Slattery, Ted Moore, Jimmy Delaney, Tommy Loughran, Johnny Walker, Charley Weinert, Mickey Walker, Bartley Madden, Jeff Smith, Bob Roper and Kid Norfolk.

It will be noticed that many of the above are heavyweights who outweighed Greb from 15 to 50 pounds. Harry liked them, and licked them that way. Throwing punches from every angle with a full arm swing which earned him the title of "windmill," the Pittsburgher was as troublesome to an opponent as a horned down the back of one's neck.

Most of Greb's fights were "no-decision" affairs. He was often engaged in bouts two and three times a week, living riotously in the meantime. Finally the candle which had been burning at both ends for so long flickered and just naturally went out.

There was one fighter Greb couldn't whip, a dusky deacon from Georgia, "Tiger" Flowers. The negro middleweight champion came along just at the right time to win the championship and keep it.

Couldn't Whip Tiger. Flowers previously had beaten Harry in a "no-decision" 10-round bout, but was a little overweight. He pursued Greb relentlessly until finally they met in February of this year and the title changed hands on a decision.

Greb promised reform and set out to train to regain his championship

Bazar Plans Formed at Tea Given at Atlanta Woman's Club

Plans for the mammoth bazar to be held at the Atlanta Woman's club were completed by the committee, with Mrs. John R. Hornady, first vice president of the club, and general chairman for the bazar, presiding over the meeting held during the Friday tea hour. Much interest is awakened in anticipation of a supply of artistic articles offered at moderate prices and in great variety to meet the need for carefully selected and individual gifts for the Christmas season.

The decorations at the tea were the work of Mrs. G. H. Brandon, chairman. Mrs. J. B. McNeely and Mrs. W. A. Goodyear, of Emory university, rendered an exquisite musical program.

Seated at Table.

Mrs. John R. Hornady was assisted by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, the president, who made a short address on the importance of this event.

Guests of honor and seated at the president's table were Mrs. DeLoe Hill, Mrs. E. V. Carter, Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, Mrs. W. D. Williamson, Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, Mrs. A. P. Coles, Jr. and Mrs. J. D. H. Herlihy. Mesdames Eva Corrigan, Joel Hunter, P. B. Phillips, Tom Brooke, Harry Lily, of New York; W. F. Melton, George Ripley, Jr., Newton C. Wing, Ben Simon, M. D. Farnham, B. H. Hill, Norman Sharp, Wilmer L. Moore, Norman Pool, T. G. Delph, George Turner, Thomas Harmon, Arthur Hazard, Alvey Taylor, E. M. Helbig, Frank Woodruff, Harold Roberts, J. A. Carlisle, E. P. Crenshaw, A. P. Treadwell, George Ober, T. T. Ballenger, J. E. Springer, Bun Wylie, Mary Griffith Dobbs, L. Bedard, Irving Thomas, F. P. Lee, Cecil Cannon, J. E. Miller, Tom Ripley, Hamilton Douglas, E. R. Johnson, J. H. Holbrook, Ira Farmer, H. J. Gaertner, Fred Rice, Nat Kaiser and Miss Esther Plotkin and others.

Those seated at the first circle table in the palm room were Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, president of the circle; Miss Carolyn Cobb, founder; Mrs. G. H. Brandon, Mrs. Mildred Sewell, Mrs. W. S. Coleman, Mrs. J. D. F. Herlihy, Miss Dorothy Scott, Mrs. William Fish, Mrs. George L. Turner, Miss Josephine Turner, Miss Martha Washington Morell, Mrs. C. R. Mitchell, Mrs. George L. Brower, Mrs. Claudia Wood, Mrs. Catherine Elmy, Mrs. W. A. Robertson, Mrs. A. Arnone, Mrs. G. G. Shipp, Mrs. Fred Wright, Miss Marion O'Leary, Mrs. C. Gainer Turner, Miss Nellie Moore and Mrs. Donald M. DeLoe, of Bismarck, S. D.; Mrs. H. B. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Andrews, Mrs. Enrico Leide and others.

Mrs. Horace Pope had as her guests for bridge Mrs. David L. Wood, Mrs. C. A. Pope and Mrs. Will Milburn.

Miss Jones Entertains.

Slams Damrosch

By Louise Dooly

WHAT would you say, if you are a radio fan, is the most important thing in music the radio has done?

"Why, it isn't even necessary to think that over," a lot of fans will assure me impetuously. "It is the enlistment of the headliners in the singing art and the master musicians of the world by broadcasting stations whose programs can increase indefinitely the number of people privileged to learn this great singing, what great playing, is."

That answer would never get the prize if I were judge.

My decision would go to the agreement—the enthusiastic agreement—of Walter Damrosch to direct his New York Symphony orchestra in a series of radio concerts, for which he will also supply a brief lecture feature, making the music more plain to those not familiar with its type.

THERE are several reasons why, to my mind, this plan is more important than all the radio arising by the Boris and the Jerizans, the McCormacks and the Glizis, delightful as these are proving to be.

One reason is that the popularizing of great music is more important than the popularizing of great artists.

A person may be familiar with the names and even the voices of all the greatest singers before the public and know mighty little about music. (Indeed, it is possible even to be a celebrity who sings and knows mighty little about music.)

But when a person knows something about the work of a great symphony orchestra, he is beginning to know something about music.

THEN, Walter Damrosch is the man above all others to put this radio-symphony combination across.

MEN WHO MADE THE WORLD

CORTES AT ONCE ARRANGED HIS FORCES IN BATTLE ARRAY. PRESENTLY A LARGE NUMBER OF INDIANS APPROACHED, WITH SHOUTS AND WAR-LIKE GESTURES. CORTES INSTRUCTED HIS INTERPRETERS TO TELL THEM THAT THE SPANISH INTENTIONS WERE PEACEFUL, AND THAT THEY MERELY WANTED TO PASS THROUGH THEIR TERRITORY. THIS WAS MET WITH INCREASED FURY ON THE PART OF THE INDIANS, SO CORTES GAVE THE ORDER TO CHARGE. AFTER SOME HOURS OF SHARP FIGHTING THE INDIANS BEGAN TO WITHDRAW IN ORDERLY FASHION. THE SPANIARDS RUSHED AFTER THEM AND PRESENTLY FOUND THEMSELVES CRAFTILY DRAWN INTO A NARROW DEFILE, WHERE THEY COULD USE NEITHER THEIR ARTILLERY OR THEIR CAVALRY. BY ADROIT MANEUVERING CORTES ESCAPED THIS AMBUSH. THE INDIANS BEING MASSES, WERE SIMPLY MOWED DOWN BY THE ARTILLERY WHILE THE HORSEMEN WITH LANCES GALLOPED AGAINST THE NOW RETREATING ENEMY, DOING TERRIBLE EXECUTION. THE REMAINING INDIANS WITHDREW IN GOOD ORDER.

Many New Features Have Been Added To Agnes Scott Program

An interesting feature has been added to the Agnes Scott chapel service. Every Wednesday morning a professor from some department will discuss the relation of his department to everyday life. At the service on October 20, Mrs. Stenstrom, professor of Bible, discussed "The Relation of Archaeology to Our Thoughts and Beliefs About the Bible." She visited the Holy Land during the past year, and her knowledge is fresh from the field. Professor S. G. Stokes is scheduled to speak on "The Practical Relations of Psychology to Everyday Life." Dr. Mary S. Sweet, the resident physician, will speak on "The Athens Clinic and Child Welfare." These faculty talks will prove very beneficial to the students, and very enlightening as general information.

It is the custom at Agnes Scott to set aside one Sunday each fall as Recognition Sunday, when the new members of the Young Women's Christian association are formally received, with this year's service being Sunday, October 17, in the chapel. For this formal recognition, the candle service was used, in which the lighted candle represents that beauty which is found in spiritual perfection, which the Y. W. C. A. has as its aim. The main feature of the program was a talk by Caroline McCall, the Y. W. C. A. president, who used as her subject "The Significance of Membership in the Y. W. C. A." "It symbolizes," she said, "the following of Christ in the way of love, and in seeing in all things the afterglow of God." The new members acknowledged membership by lighting the candles from one held by the president.

Perhaps the most honorary position at Agnes Scott is that of being a member of Hoase, this organization being the honor society of the girls who have done the most for their college. New members are chosen twice a year. This year the announcement exercises were conducted by Miss Sarah Slaughter, of Atlanta, last year's president of Hoase.

MOTHER OF SEVEN CHILDREN

Helped in Caring for them by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

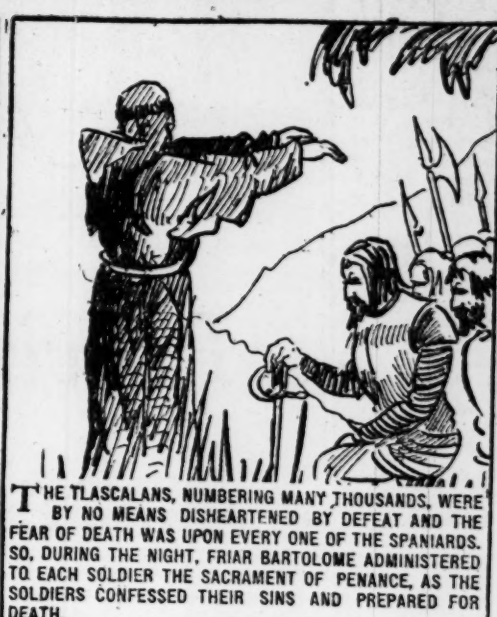

Glasgow, Ky.—"I am the mother of seven children, the eldest being only 12 years, and I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to pull me through the roughest places of my married life. At one time I was so downhearted that life was a misery. A friend in Indianapolis, Indiana, told me of the Vegetable Compound, and after taking a few bottles of it I became myself again and it was a pleasure to do my housework and gardening. Since then I always use your medicine when I feel weak from overwork and it straightens me out."

Mrs. MELISSA BARNES, Route 2, care of O. F. Steenbergen, Glasgow, Ky.

New Orleans, La.—"I could not do a thing after my first boy was born. I was so weak, I had no appetite, lost weight and was not able to do my work. After this way for seven weeks, then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got wonderful results from it."

Mrs. C. FAULKNER, 4014 Dauphine St., New Orleans, La.

NOTED HISTORIAN

THE TLASCALANS, NUMBERING MANY THOUSANDS, WERE BY NO MEANS DISHEARTENED BY DEFEAT AND THE FEAR OF DEATH WAS UPON EVERY ONE OF THE SPANIARDS. SO, DURING THE NIGHT, FRIAR BARTOLOME ADMINISTERED TO EACH SOLDIER THE SACRAMENT OF Penance, AS THE SOLDIERS CONFESSED THEIR SINS AND PREPARED FOR DEATH.

IT WAS EVIDENT TO THE SPANIARDS THAT THE ATTACK WOULD SHORTLY BE RESUMED. THE LEADER OF THE TLASCALANS SENT THREE HUNDRED TURKEYS AND TWO HUNDRED BASKETS OF MAIZE CAKES TO THE SPANIARDS SO THAT THEY MIGHT EAT A GOOD MEAL BEFORE FIGHTING AND NOT AFTERWARDS ATTRIBUTE THEIR DEFEAT TO WEAKNESS FROM HUNGER. Marietta Women Set Cornerstone For Clubhouse

Marietta, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Impressive exercises marked the laying of the cornerstone of the new Woman's clubhouse here this afternoon. The grand lodge of Masons were in charge of ceremonies, and the principal address was delivered by Mrs. A. A. White, of Cartersville, founder of the Marietta Woman's club, who reviewed the history of the organization and praised the present president, Mrs. A. D. Little, for the faithful service she had rendered in bringing about a long-cherished project.

Mrs. M. L. Lyons, of Marietta, president of the local chapter Daughters of the Confederacy, paid a glowing tribute to the untiring efforts of every member of the club in bringing about a realization of their efforts.

Ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown, who gave the site for the clubhouse, expressed pleasure for the part he had been in position to play.

Closing the program for the occasion, a patriotic drill by members of the Young Woman's club was given, followed by refreshments in the high school building, served by members of the home economics department.

Mrs. Prince Webster is program chairman for the November meeting, over which the president of the Garden club, Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun, will preside. The club membership is composed of a group of Atlantans interested in horticulture.

Fashions Sketched by Kay

The period frocks for which Lanvin is famous never fail to appeal to the eye. Today I have sketched a most charming model from Chamberlin's. It is fashioned of black tulle, and is studded with six magnificent medallions of rhinestones and pearls. It is an exact reproduction of a Lanvin frock, and possesses the grace, charm, and youthfulness that Lanvin bouffant models always have. Black is very smart for evening, and combined in this way with rhinestones and pearls, the result is elegant simplicity. A charming note is the deep collar, which falls most fascinatingly over one's shoulders, and down to a graceful length in the back. Black silk net is used for the yoke and the band on the bottom of the skirt; this is the acme of chic.

Miss Ruth Tribble, of Lithonia, and Mrs. J. D. McLemore, Jr., of Bradenton, Fla., will be among out-of-town guests attending the Anderson-Forsbeck wedding at the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church Saturday.

Mrs. J. D. McLemore, Jr., of Bradenton, Fla., arrived Wednesday to be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tribble, at their home in Lithonia. Mrs. McLemore was formerly Miss Ethel Tribble, whose marriage was an event of this summer.

Miss Sara B. Hickman, of Washington, D. C., is at the Biltmore.

Van Astor Batchelor returned Friday from North Carolina, where he spent the summer.

tion of the murder of Bert Donaldson crack criminal investigator of the solicitor's staff, were named in true bills returned Friday by the Fulton county grand jury, charging statutory offenses. Four counts were named in each indictment.

SHOWERS TODAY

Warmer With Showers Is the Forecast.

Probable light showers late this afternoon and Sunday, with slow, rising temperatures, is predicted for today by C. F. von Herrmann, local official forecaster.

Temperatures today will range between 60 and 76 degrees, Mr. von Herrmann stated.

Temperatures Friday ranged from 50 as a low mark to 72 during the early afternoon.

PAVING WORK STARTED AT EMORY UNIVERSITY

Emory University, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Contracts for the paving of the walkways and drives at Emory have been let and the work on the first unit has begun.

The work will begin at Clifton road, near the Wesley Memorial hospital, pass the Physiology building and terminate at Dobbs hall, passing the new dining hall, which will soon be completed.

Arthur Brooke Construction company, of Atlanta, received the contract. The paving is to be of asphalt, 18 feet wide, and will cost about $7,000.

LUTHERANS MERGE HOME MISSION WORK

Richmond, Va., October 22.—(AP.) Home mission work of the United Lutheran Church of America was merged under one board by the fifth biennial convention of the church here today. Heretofore, five boards and committees have divided the responsibilities. Headquarters of the new board will be established at New York, and regional headquarters will be set up in Chicago, Columbia, S. C., and at some point in Canada.

Dr. Robert of Germany, declared that the Lutheran church in Germany against having any dealings with the Prussian church of Germany—the church to which the former Kaiser belonged—because the Prussian church is heavily impregnated with modernism.

Replying to the visitor, Dr. F. H. Knobel, president, said that the Lutheran church in America was not ready to join the fundamentalistic movement in America because of its "legalistic character." He declared that the Lutheran church is "neither fundamentalist nor modernist, but the proponent of a positive faith, as against a negative one."

Foreign mission treasury reported receipts during the biennium of $2,073,383. The question of the adjustment of work in the West Indies, Mexico, Central America and South America, as between the foreign and home mission, was referred to a joint committee.

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH

H. K. Kellogg

This thing will dull the brightest "star"

YOU probably know this story, or one amazingly like it. It deals with a young man who started out "with everything"—who made brilliant progress for a time—became a "star"—had his little hour . . . and then faded. . . . What vicious thing can so transform a man? Can make a strong heart weak? An energetic body spineless? . . .

Constipation ruins so many promising persons—that dread disease which saps life and strength, mars beauty, destroys confidence and often leads its victims deeper and deeper into the valley of the shadow. The fortunate fact about constipation is that it can be conquered—surely, safely, permanently. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the answer!

As Kellogg's ALL-BRAN journeys through the system, its fiber remains unchanged. It sweeps the intestine clean. It absorbs moisture and carries it through the intestinal tract, stimulating natural, healthy action. Doctors call ALL-BRAN a bulk food. You know the importance of "bulk" in diet.

Once you establish the amount of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN that you first find effective, you need never increase the portion. That's something you cannot do with habit-forming pills and drugs. They must be taken in ever-increasing doses to do any "good."

Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream, or with fresh or preserved fruit; sprinkle over other cereals or cook with hot cereals; use in soups, or make into the many recipes on the package. If eaten regularly, ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Eat two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT BRAN

To be effective, bran fiber must go through the various digestive processes without submitting to any of them. It must pass through the entire alimentary tract without its form being changed.

What happens when a bran food is eaten? After the saliva has acted upon it, it passes through the stomach and into the intestines, where every part which is not fiber is absorbed.

In ALL-BRAN the quantity of fiber is so great that it furnishes bulk enough to prevent and relieve constipation.

In a part-bran food, the quantity of fiber is so small that there is only a puny amount to do a herculean task.

ALL-BRAN brings sure results. Demand it.

Be very careful!

Be sure to get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. A part-bran product can, at best, be but partially effective. Kellogg's is the original, genuine 100% ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it. All grocers sell it. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it.

INSTALLMENT XXX. THE ACCIDENT.

Dorinda decided that she understood. "I believe it's a trick," she cried. "You think I'll meet one capitulation with another. Well, I won't, and that's flat."

"It isn't a trick," he said wearily. "I'm ready to go any time you want to start. I'll pack my suitcase and be at the door when you're ready."

"Very well, then. In twenty minutes."

At the door he stopped and looked back at her. "It would be hard to forgive this sort of thing," he deliberately told her. "If one didn't remember what your life has been. I'm going to try to make things better for you after this—and by God," he added with sudden passion, but on the same pitch of voice, "I'm not going to let you upset everything within forty-eight hours of the start. One of us has got to have self-control! If it's up to me to furnish it all I'll try to do it."

The door closed and he was gone.

Dorinda went into her bedroom and began to throw garments into her suitcase, trying by action to stifle the clamoring voices within her. The episode had been as much of a revelation to her as it was to him. She had not dreamed she had in her such possibilities of unreasonable tyranny and waves of humiliation rolled over her. It was her wretched temper, of course. She had always known she had an ungovernable temper, and of late she had been giving it full scope. She told herself she would have given everything she possessed to wipe out the last half hour. But it could not be wiped out. It could never be wiped out. She would always remember it—always know henceforth that she was the kind of person who did this sort of thing. Goddard would remember it, too, but this did not matter so much. The loss of her own self-respect was the serious element in the episode.

She finished the packing, rang for a porter, and accompanied this laden functionary to the hotel entrance in so tangible a condition of gloom that he stared at her curiously.

David was standing beside the roadster, and as he helped her into it—an attention she usually anticipated by springing into her own seat—she cast a swift glance at him. No signs of their recent conflict appeared in his face, and it retained its serenity even when she took her place behind the wheel. To herself she admitted that this action was rubbing it in a bit, but on the other hand it would make surrender easier later on. Her confession of the unwisdom of proceeding would be strengthened by the fact that she and not he was the driver. Incidentally, she admired his self-control. He was acting amazingly well. As for her—a fresh wave of self-disgust broke over her.

David meanwhile looked at the glistening expanse of ice that represented the road and his face sobered.

"Do you really want to drive?" he asked, as he took his seat beside her.

"Yes."

That was sufficiently definite and he took it in silence. Dorinda started the roadster with no visible indication of the emotion that increasingly filled her. It was a new emotion and a most disturbing one, for it was the emotion of fear. Once, as the roadster emerged from an ice rut to pass a slow moving truck the little car skidded around a complete circle. The driver made a good recovery, but the incident shook her nerves. Two hours later, rounding an unexpectedly sharp turn while ascending a hill, the car again slipped out of control for a few seconds. Dorinda felt David's hand slide into the right side pocket of her driving coat and take out her cigaret case and match box. He lit a cigaret and restored the borrowed articles to the pocket. It was the first time she had seen him smoke, although he had admitted that he liked an occasional pipe.

"Nervous?" she asked, with a provoking smile.

"Who wouldn't be? But you're driving awfully well."

That softened her and she spoke impulsively.

"You were perfectly right. We oughtn't to be doing this. We'll stop when we get to Adneyport. Or shall we turn back?"

"I was sure you would admit the difficulties after we started. We'll probably find the Bradleys at Adneyport, too. There's a good hotel there—the only one this side of Carlisle—so I suppose we'd better keep on without stopping anywhere for lunch. We're not far from Adneyport—thirty miles, I'd say."

Her driving deserved his praise and the praise helped the driving by strengthening her morale. She proceeded with the utmost care and with surprisingly good judgment, but within an hour she had another skid perilously near a ditch. She threw out the clutch and the roadster straightened itself. She turned to David.

"You may drive if you like."

"Would you rather I did?" He asked the question naturally enough, but she saw his look of relief and stiffened.

"No, I'd rather see this thing through. I like to finish what I've started. But I know I owe it to you to let you drive, if you want to."

He was leaning forward, ready for the exchange of seats, but at this he again dropped back.

"No, finish the job," he said lightly. "That's just the way I should feel about it. Besides, I couldn't do any better than you're doing."

She laughed, rather shakily.

"That's true greatness of soul. You're pouring so many coals of fire on my head that I shall not have a hair left."

After that she gave all her attention to the driving. They were now on a stretch of narrow country road, along which ran the deep and hard frozen ruts of a single track. At their right lay a shallow ravine. The approach of another car was always a menace, necessitating the struggle of both cars out of the icy ruts and over to a side of the narrow road to allow passing. By the mercy of heaven, Dorinda grimly reflected, they were meeting very few cars. Not many human beings were as idiotic as she was.

Even as the thought came a big sedan swung out from a blind road less than fifty feet ahead and rushed toward her. Her heart dropped a beat and she heard David's low exclamation. She swerved out of the rut, sounding the horn. There was a squealing of the sedan's brakes, a glimpse of its driver frantically sawing his wheel as the big car, now plainly out of control, drunkenly reeled toward the roadster. She set her emergency brake, felt a terrific impact.

From some other world, black and terrible and full of agony, she heard the sounds of shrieks.

A voice vaguely familiar was in her ear. A face, vaguely familiar, hung somewhere in the space above her. Simultaneously another picture swung before her eyes—an icy road, a reeling automobile—

The voice spoke.

"You feel better, don't you?"

"I—think—so. What—happened?"

"An accident. You were hurt, but you'll be all right soon."

"D—David!"

"He's all right," the voice said understandingly. "He was hurt, too, but he'll soon be around again."

"Where—am—I?"

"In the Adneyport hospital. Fortunately you were only twelve miles away from it. Everything is being done for you and Mr. Goddard. He's in the next room. Now I've answered all your questions, so your mind would be at rest, but you mustn't talk any more. You know who I am, don't you?"

"I—know—I—ought—to—"

"Alice Bradley. Dick and I were at the Adneyport hotel. David telephoned there on a chance of finding us."

"What's—the—matter—with—David?"

"Only a broken arm and a couple of broken ribs." The speaker's tone implied that such injuries were the merest trifles. "He's walking around his room already, velping to come in and see you."
